REV_00416163

Noel,
Thank you for checking into the possibility of a White House tour for me and my family.

We would like to visit the White House on either Monday, July 2 or Wednesday, July 3. There will be four of us in our group (Michael Kelleher, Jocelyn Kelleher, Elizabeth Kelleher and Amy Kelleher). We could do the tour at any time on those days.

Thank you again.

Best regards,

Mike Kelleher

Sounds great! We're now up to 52 attendees, which should be a nice size for the venue.

See you soon, and thanks again for taking the time out of you busy schedule

Another Step Forward for the Bush Education Plan

President's Education Plan Passes Senate

- The Senate passed a strong education reform plan with an overwhelming bipartisan 91-8 vote. The Senate bill reflects President Bush's education reform agenda to leave no child behind.
- The President's education proposal and the Senate education bill share these core principles.
  - (1) Accountability for results through high standards, assessments, and consequences for failure. States will administer state tests in reading and math to every child in grades 3-8 annually. States will be held accountable to ensure that schools are making adequate academic progress for all students. And, while failing schools get help under the President's plan, they will face serious consequences for persistent failure.
  - (2) Maximum Local Control: States and local districts will be given unprecedented flexibility with federal education dollars. The Senate bill contains important consolidation and flexibility that will make key teacher quality, bilingual education and after-school programs work better.
  - (3) Funding Proven Education Approaches That Work: To ensure progress, states and schools must demonstrate results with federal education funds. For the first time, historic increases in federal education funding will be directly tied to school performance. And, the federal government will help states to implement proven, scientifically-based approaches to provide kids with basic skills, including new initiatives such as Reading First and Early Childhood Reading Instruction.
  - (4) Empowering Parents to Make Informed Educational Choices: For the first time, Republicans and Democrats have agreed -- real reform requires that parents must have more options and more control over their children's education. Parents and the public will be given detailed school-by-school Report Cards on the performance of their schools. Parents will be able to choose to transfer their child from a failing public school to an effective public school with transportation provided or to redirect their child's share of federal funds toward tutoring or after-school academic services. And, parents will be given the option to transfer their child out of a persistently unsafe public school to another public school of their choice.
- The President looks forward to working with House and Senate conferees to develop a final bill that meets his core principles and can be signed into law.
- In order to ensure that these reforms can be effectively implemented, the President has proposed an historic level of investment to help states and local schools. The President believes reasonable education spending increases are justified, but they must be carefully directed toward effective, results-oriented programs. Simply increasing spending without focus and creating layers of new programs impedes real reform and will not help to improve public schools.
- The President looks forward to working on a bipartisan basis to take the best parts of the House and Senate education bills and enact the most substantial education reforms in a generation before the new school year begins.

Another Step Forward for the Bush Education Plan

President's Education Plan Passes Senate

- The Senate passed a strong education reform plan with an overwhelming bipartisan 91-8 vote. The Senate bill reflects President Bush's education reform agenda to leave no child behind.
- The President's education proposal and the Senate education bill share these core principles.
  - (1) Accountability for results through high standards, assessments, and consequences for failure. States will administer state tests in reading and math to every child in grades 3-8 annually. States will be held accountable to ensure that schools are making adequate academic progress for all students. And, while failing schools get help under the President's plan, they will face serious consequences for persistent failure.
  - (2) Maximum Local Control: States and local districts will be given unprecedented flexibility with federal education dollars. The Senate bill contains important consolidation and flexibility that will make key teacher quality, bilingual education and after-school programs work better.
  - (3) Funding Proven Education Approaches That Work: To ensure progress, states and schools must demonstrate results with federal education funds. For the first time, historic increases in federal education funding will be directly tied to school performance. And, the federal government will help states to implement proven, scientifically-based approaches to provide kids with basic skills, including new initiatives such as Reading First and Early Childhood Reading Instruction.
  - (4) Empowering Parents to Make Informed Educational Choices: For the first time, Republicans and Democrats have agreed -- real reform requires that parents must have more options and more control over their children's education. Parents and the public will be given detailed school-by-school Report Cards on the performance of their schools. Parents will be able to choose to transfer their child from a failing public school to an effective public school with transportation provided or to redirect their child's share of federal funds toward tutoring or after-school academic services. And, parents will be given the option to transfer their child out of a persistently unsafe public school to another public school of their choice.
- The President looks forward to working with House and Senate conferees to develop a final bill that meets his core principles and can be signed into law.
- In order to ensure that these reforms can be effectively implemented, the President has proposed an historic level of investment to help states and local schools. The President believes reasonable education spending increases are justified, but they must be carefully directed toward effective, results-oriented programs. Simply increasing spending without focus and creating layers of new programs impedes real reform and will not help to improve public schools.
- The President looks forward to working on a bipartisan basis to take the best parts of the House and Senate education bills and enact the most substantial education reforms in a generation before the new school year begins.

Another Step Forward for the Bush Education Plan

President's Education Plan Passes Senate

- The Senate passed a strong education reform plan with an overwhelming bipartisan 91-8 vote. The Senate bill reflects President Bush's education reform agenda to leave no child behind.
- The President's education proposal and the Senate education bill share these core principles.
  - (1) Accountability for results through high standards, assessments, and consequences for failure. States will administer state tests in reading and math to every child in grades 3-8 annually. States will be held accountable to ensure that schools are making adequate academic progress for all students. And, while failing schools get help under the President's plan, they will face serious consequences for persistent failure.
  - (2) Maximum Local Control: States and local districts will be given unprecedented flexibility with federal education dollars. The Senate bill contains important consolidation and flexibility that will make key teacher quality, bilingual education and after-school programs work better.
  - (3) Funding Proven Education Approaches That Work: To ensure progress, states and schools must demonstrate results with federal education funds. For the first time, historic increases in federal education funding will be directly tied to school performance. And, the federal government will help states to implement proven, scientifically-based approaches to provide kids with basic skills, including new initiatives such as Reading First and Early Childhood Reading Instruction.
  - (4) Empowering Parents to Make Informed Educational Choices: For the first time, Republicans and Democrats have agreed -- real reform requires that parents must have more options and more control over their children's education. Parents and the public will be given detailed school-by-school Report Cards on the performance of their schools. Parents will be able to choose to transfer their child from a failing public school to an effective public school with transportation provided or to redirect their child's share of federal funds toward tutoring or after-school academic services. And, parents will be given the option to transfer their child out of a persistently unsafe public school to another public school of their choice.
- The President looks forward to working with House and Senate conferees to develop a final bill that meets his core principles and can be signed into law.
- In order to ensure that these reforms can be effectively implemented, the President has proposed an historic level of investment to help states and local schools. The President believes reasonable education spending increases are justified, but they must be carefully directed toward effective, results-oriented programs. Simply increasing spending without focus and creating layers of new programs impedes real reform and will not help to improve public schools.
- The President looks forward to working on a bipartisan basis to take the best parts of the House and Senate education bills and enact the most substantial education reforms in a generation before the new school year begins.

Another Step Forward for the Bush Education Plan

President's Education Plan Passes Senate

- The Senate passed a strong education reform plan with an overwhelming bipartisan 91-8 vote. The Senate bill reflects President Bush's education reform agenda to leave no child behind.
- The President's education proposal and the Senate education bill share these core principles.
  - (1) Accountability for results through high standards, assessments, and consequences for failure. States will administer state tests in reading and math to every child in grades 3-8 annually. States will be held accountable to ensure that schools are making adequate academic progress for all students. And, while failing schools get help under the President's plan, they will face serious consequences for persistent failure.
  - (2) Maximum Local Control: States and local districts will be given unprecedented flexibility with federal education dollars. The Senate bill contains important consolidation and flexibility that will make key teacher quality, bilingual education and after-school programs work better.
  - (3) Funding Proven Education Approaches That Work: To ensure progress, states and schools must demonstrate results with federal education funds. For the first time, historic increases in federal education funding will be directly tied to school performance. And, the federal government will help states to implement proven, scientifically-based approaches to provide kids with basic skills, including new initiatives such as Reading First and Early Childhood Reading Instruction.
  - (4) Empowering Parents to Make Informed Educational Choices: For the first time, Republicans and Democrats have agreed -- real reform requires that parents must have more options and more control over their children's education. Parents and the public will be given detailed school-by-school Report Cards on the performance of their schools. Parents will be able to choose to transfer their child from a failing public school to an effective public school with transportation provided or to redirect their child's share of federal funds toward tutoring or after-school academic services. And, parents will be given the option to transfer their child out of a persistently unsafe public school to another public school of their choice.
- The President looks forward to working with House and Senate conferees to develop a final bill that meets his core principles and can be signed into law.
- In order to ensure that these reforms can be effectively implemented, the President has proposed an historic level of investment to help states and local schools. The President believes reasonable education spending increases are justified, but they must be carefully directed toward effective, results-oriented programs. Simply increasing spending without focus and creating layers of new programs impedes real reform and will not help to improve public schools.
- The President looks forward to working on a bipartisan basis to take the best parts of the House and Senate education bills and enact the most substantial education reforms in a generation before the new school year begins.

Another Step Forward for the Bush Education Plan

President's Education Plan Passes Senate

- The Senate passed a strong education reform plan with an overwhelming bipartisan 91-8 vote. The Senate bill reflects President Bush's education reform agenda to leave no child behind.
- The President's education proposal and the Senate education bill share these core principles.
  - (1) Accountability for results through high standards, assessments, and consequences for failure. States will administer state tests in reading and math to every child in grades 3-8 annually. States will be held accountable to ensure that schools are making adequate academic progress for all students. And, while failing schools get help under the President's plan, they will face serious consequences for persistent failure.
  - (2) Maximum Local Control: States and local districts will be given unprecedented flexibility with federal education dollars. The Senate bill contains important consolidation and flexibility that will make key teacher quality, bilingual education and after-school programs work better.
  - (3) Funding Proven Education Approaches That Work: To ensure progress, states and schools must demonstrate results with federal education funds. For the first time, historic increases in federal education funding will be directly tied to school performance. And, the federal government will help states to implement proven, scientifically-based approaches to provide kids with basic skills, including new initiatives such as Reading First and Early Childhood Reading Instruction.
  - (4) Empowering Parents to Make Informed Educational Choices: For the first time, Republicans and Democrats have agreed -- real reform requires that parents must have more options and more control over their children's education. Parents and the public will be given detailed school-by-school Report Cards on the performance of their schools. Parents will be able to choose to transfer their child from a failing public school to an effective public school with transportation provided or to redirect their child's share of federal funds toward tutoring or after-school academic services. And, parents will be given the option to transfer their child out of a persistently unsafe public school to another public school of their choice.
- The President looks forward to working with House and Senate conferees to develop a final bill that meets his core principles and can be signed into law.
- In order to ensure that these reforms can be effectively implemented, the President has proposed an historic level of investment to help states and local schools. The President believes reasonable education spending increases are justified, but they must be carefully directed toward effective, results-oriented programs. Simply increasing spending without focus and creating layers of new programs impedes real reform and will not help to improve public schools.
- The President looks forward to working on a bipartisan basis to take the best parts of the House and Senate education bills and enact the most substantial education reforms in a generation before the new school year begins.

Attached is a list of Bush Administration help actions for CA. It includes most recent EPA and DOD activities. Recent changes are:

-- On June 8th, on an expedited basis, EPA issued an AOC [permit] to Pegasus Power for a new "peaker" plant to be built at a location in Chino.
-- EPA is finalizing similar AOCs [read:permits] for facilities owned by Modesto Irrigation District and Duke energy, and expect to receive requests from IBM, the Northern California Power Agency, and the Sacramento Municipal Utility District in the near future.
-- The Navy Department reported that shore activities in San Diego county have already reduced consumption of electricity by 11 percent since May 2000.

ADMINISTRATION ACTIONS TO ASSIST CALIFORNIA

Updated June 22, 2001

Since taking office, the Bush Administration has actively helped California minimize the risk of blackouts and lower electricity costs by removing obstacles to supply and conserving electricity use. Governor Davis has thanked President Bush for his assistance.

- One day after being sworn into office, the President directed the Energy Secretary to call Governor Davis to offer the Administration's full support to minimize the risk of power shortages.
- Three days after taking office, at Governor Davis' request, the Bush Administration extended the emergency electricity and gas orders to give California time to develop legislation aimed at maintaining electricity supplies.
- In February, also at the request of Governor Davis, President Bush issued an executive order directing Federal agencies to expedite permits relating to construction of new power plants in California. In response to the President's directive and through their own initiatives, federal agencies have been regularly and actively working with state and local officials to remove obstacles to new supply. A detailed list of specific actions to remove obstacles to new supply by federal agencies follows below.
- Following up on a meeting with Governor Davis, Secretary Abraham issued a letter indicating that the Administration did not oppose the State's proposed purchase of the California utility transmission systems, conditioned on the adherence to open access requirements.
- President Bush and the Energy Secretary have engaged in discussions with the Government of Mexico about increasing electricity imports from Mexico. DOE is also working expeditiously to approve several cross-border electricity expansions between California and Mexico that should be approved later this year.
- In early March, at the behest of Governor Davis, Secretary Abraham sent a letter to the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) asking that the agency act on his request for an extension of the waiver for qualifying facilities from certain fuel requirements.
- On March 29, Secretary Abraham met with a group of California energy suppliers to impress upon them that the next several months should not be viewed as "business as usual," and to ask for their help to avoid foreseeable disruptions in supply.

- On April 4, Secretary Abraham met with a group of electricity experts to discuss the California electricity crisis and to explore actions that could be taken by the federal government and State to increase supply or reduce demand.
- On May 3, President Bush directed federal agencies in California and other regions where electricity shortages are likely to reduce electricity use by the maximum extent, particularly during peak demand use periods. Agencies will report to the President within 30 days on specific conservation actions taken.
- On May 3 the President announced that the Department of Defense would reduce its electricity demand in California this summer during peak demand periods. The reduction will be achieved by a combination of energy conservation, energy efficiency investments and power generation. This initiative augments ongoing energy conservation efforts that have resulted in a 23 percent decrease in energy consumed per square foot in Department of Defense buildings nationwide since 1985.
- On May 29, President Bush called on Congress to appropriate an additional $150 million to help low-income families deal with soaring energy costs.
- The Navy Department reported that shore activities in San Diego county have already reduced consumption of electricity by 11 percent since May 2000.

SPECIFIC BUSH ADMINISTRATION EXPEDITING ACTIONS TO HELP CALIFORNIA REMOVE OBSTACLES TO NEW GENERATION AND MINIMIZE BLACKOUTS

In response to the President's Directive and federal agencies' initiatives, the following expediting actions have been taken:

Expediting major power plant construction

Since the President issued his directive on February 15, the Environmental Protection Agency (working cooperatively with the State of California) has issued final construction permits for four new power plants totaling 2,450 megawatts (MW) of new energy supplies (Elk Hills, 500 MW; High Dessert, 700 MW; Pastoria, 750 MW; Midway Sunset 500 MW).

Expediting small, "peaker" power plant construction

Working cooperatively with the State of California and local air quality boards, EPA has issued Administrative Orders on Consent (AOCs) that allowed immediate and expedited construction of peaking power plants:

On April 9th and 10th, EPA issued AOCs to Wildflower Energy for two simple cycle power plants – its Larkspur (90 MW) and Indigo (135 MW) facilities in the San Diego and South Coast Air Districts, respectively. The plants are expected to be in operation early this summer.

On April 30th, EPA issued an AOC to Alliance Colton for two 40 MW facilities to be built at their Drew and Century substations in the South Coast Air District. Both facilities are expected to be in operation by mid-summer.

On June 8th, EPA issued an AOC to Pegasus Power for a new plant to be built at a location in Chino.

EPA expects additional requests for AOCs for new peaker power plants, although none have yet been received. EPA is currently working on a request from RAAMCO, but requires additional information from the company before issuing an AOC.

Providing flexibility for existing peaker plants, emergency generators, and emissions enforcement:

Peaker plant flexibility: Working cooperatively with the State of California and local air quality boards, EPA issued an AOC to Mirant for its Potrero (San Francisco) peaking turbines on April 6. These turbines are fired on distillate oil, and had taken a limit of 870 hours per year to avoid a NO<sub>x</sub> control requirement. Due to January's emergency, the ISO required Mirant to run the turbines almost continuously, and it is now close to exceeding its hour limit on some of the turbines. EPA's order, which only applies this calendar year, anticipates exceedence of the limit.

The order is paired with one from the Bay Area Air Quality Management District. The District's order additionally collects $20,000/ton to be used for emissions reductions in the area of the Potrero plant. Each of the three turbines subject to the order has a capacity of 52 MW. California executive order D-24-01 ordered local air quality management districts to modify limits on the hours of operation of power plants, provided the operators pay a mitigation fee for all excess emissions to fund pollution offset projects.

EPA is finalizing similar AOCs for facilities owned by Modesto Irrigation District and Duke energy, and expect to receive requests from IBM, the Northern California Power Agency, and the Sacramento Municipal Utility District in the near future.

Backup generator flexibility: In response to a request from the California Environmental Protection Agency, EPA sent a March 9 letter to California's Environmental Protection Agency allowing the use of emergency backup generators to avert blackouts where such blackouts are imminent. This authority will expire October 31, 2001.

RECLAIM program flexibility: On April 6, EPA issued a letter to the South Coast Air Quality Management District (SCAQMD) outlining EPA concurrence with several District proposals to add flexibility to its RECLAIM program (SCAQMD's program that allows trading to comply with CAA emissions requirements) by: 1) allow power producers to operate at high capacity this summer and make up credit shortfalls for 2001-2003 NOx exceedances in the second compliance year; 2) permit California to provide three years of NOx offsets obtained from diesel truck engine retrofits for peaker units operating this summer, and; 3) permit the District to use as offsets credits generated from categories of sources currently being expanded through the District's rulemaking process.

The result of EPA's concurrence on these points will be to permit the District to expand the pool of NOx credits available for use this summer by all power generators and, to the extent that NOx credits are not sufficient, allow offsets to be made up in a subsequent year.

Expediting natural gas infrastructure expansion to increase electricity generation

In response to a request from the State of California, and working cooperatively with the Mojave Desert Air Quality Management District, EPA issued an AOC to Williams Co. to allow immediate construction of a compressor turbine at the existing compression station of their Kern River Gas Transmission Co. facility in Daggett, CA. The new compressor turbine will come online July 1, 2001, and increase gas flow in the pipeline by about 20 percent. On April 6, FERC approved construction of a new natural gas facility in only three weeks. The Executive Director of the California Energy Commission noted the Bush Administration was moving at "lightning speed."

Expediting the review of operating permits

EPA has reduced its review of state-issued Clean Air Act operating permits from the statutorily-allowed 45 days to 5-10 days for emissions control projects associated with power generation. This is an EPA initiative not tied to any specific executive order issued by Governor Davis.

On March 14, FERC issued a series of orders designed to expedite energy supplies to California, including streamlining regulatory procedures for wholesale power sales, expediting natural gas pipelines, and urging hydropower licensees to assess the potential for increased hydropower generation.

The Army Corps of Engineers initiated discussions with power generators and concluded that 25 of the 32 first-tier priority power sites identified by the California Energy Commission do not require Department of the Army permits. The Corps is prepared to work with the remaining seven power generators on any permits that may be required.

Expediting expansion of electricity transmission

Within 24 hours of receipt of a request, the Defense Department concurred on April 5 on an application from San Diego Gas & Electric to amend a Presidential Permit to connect a new 510-megawatt Otay Mesa power plant to an existing 230,000-volt electrical transmission line and to double the number of conductors on this line. This upgrade will result in additional generation becoming available in Southern California.

Attached is a list of Bush Administration help actions for CA. It includes most recent EPA and DOD activities. Recent changes are:

-- On June 8th, on an expedited basis, EPA issued an AOC [permit] to Pegasus Power for a new "peaker" plant to be built at a location in Chino.
 -- EPA is finalizing similar AOCs [read:permits] for facilities owned by Modesto Irrigation District and Duke energy, and expect to receive requests from IBM, the Northern California Power Agency, and the Sacramento Municipal Utility District in the near future.

-- The Navy Department reported that shore activities in San Diego county have already reduced consumption of electricity by 11 percent since May 2000.

ADMINISTRATION ACTIONS TO ASSIST CALIFORNIA

Updated June 22, 2001

Since taking office, the Bush Administration has actively helped California minimize the risk of blackouts and lower electricity costs by removing obstacles to supply and conserving electricity use. Governor Davis has thanked President Bush for his assistance.

- One day after being sworn into office, the President directed the Energy Secretary to call Governor Davis to offer the Administration's full support to minimize the risk of power shortages.
- Three days after taking office, at Governor Davis' request, the Bush Administration extended the emergency electricity and gas orders to give California time to develop legislation aimed at maintaining electricity supplies.
- In February, also at the request of Governor Davis, President Bush issued an executive order directing Federal agencies to expedite permits relating to construction of new power plants in California. In response to the President's directive and through their own initiatives, federal agencies have been regularly and actively working with state and local officials to remove obstacles to new supply. A detailed list of specific actions to remove obstacles to new supply by federal agencies follows below.
- Following up on a meeting with Governor Davis, Secretary Abraham issued a letter indicating that the Administration did not oppose the State's proposed purchase of the California utility transmission systems, conditioned on the adherence to open access requirements.
- President Bush and the Energy Secretary have engaged in discussions with the Government of Mexico about increasing electricity imports from Mexico. DOE is also working expeditiously to approve several cross-border electricity expansions between California and Mexico that should be approved later this year.
- In early March, at the behest of Governor Davis, Secretary Abraham sent a letter to the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) asking that the agency act on his request for an extension of the waiver for qualifying facilities from certain fuel requirements.
- On March 29, Secretary Abraham met with a group of California energy suppliers to impress upon them that the next several months should not be viewed as "business as usual," and to ask for their help to avoid foreseeable disruptions in supply.

- On April 4, Secretary Abraham met with a group of electricity experts to discuss the California electricity crisis and to explore actions that could be taken by the federal government and State to increase supply or reduce demand.
- On May 3, President Bush directed federal agencies in California and other regions where electricity shortages are likely to reduce electricity use by the maximum extent, particularly during peak demand use periods. Agencies will report to the President within 30 days on specific conservation actions taken.
- On May 3 the President announced that the Department of Defense would reduce its electricity demand in California this summer during peak demand periods. The reduction will be achieved by a combination of energy conservation, energy efficiency investments and power generation. This initiative augments ongoing energy conservation efforts that have resulted in a 23 percent decrease in energy consumed per square foot in Department of Defense buildings nationwide since 1985.
- On May 29, President Bush called on Congress to appropriate an additional $150 million to help low-income families deal with soaring energy costs.
- The Navy Department reported that shore activities in San Diego county have already reduced consumption of electricity by 11 percent since May 2000.

SPECIFIC BUSH ADMINISTRATION EXPEDITING ACTIONS TO HELP CALIFORNIA REMOVE OBSTACLES TO NEW GENERATION AND MINIMIZE BLACKOUTS

In response to the President's Directive and federal agencies' initiatives, the following expediting actions have been taken:

Expediting major power plant construction

Since the President issued his directive on February 15, the Environmental Protection Agency (working cooperatively with the State of California) has issued final construction permits for four new power plants totaling 2,450 megawatts (MW) of new energy supplies (Elk Hills, 500 MW; High Dessert, 700 MW; Pastoria, 750 MW; Midway Sunset 500 MW).

Expediting small, "peaker" power plant construction

Working cooperatively with the State of California and local air quality boards, EPA has issued Administrative Orders on Consent (AOCs) that allowed immediate and expedited construction of peaking power plants:

On April 9th and 10th, EPA issued AOCs to Wildflower Energy for two simple cycle power plants – its Larkspur (90 MW) and Indigo (135 MW) facilities in the San Diego and South Coast Air Districts, respectively. The plants are expected to be in operation early this summer.

On April 30th, EPA issued an AOC to Alliance Colton for two 40 MW facilities to be built at their Drew and Century substations in the South Coast Air District. Both facilities are expected to be in operation by mid-summer.

On June 8th, EPA issued an AOC to Pegasus Power for a new plant to be built at a location in Chino.

EPA expects additional requests for AOCs for new peaker power plants, although none have yet been received. EPA is currently working on a request from RAAMCO, but requires additional information from the company before issuing an AOC.

Providing flexibility for existing peaker plants, emergency generators, and emissions enforcement:

Peaker plant flexibility: Working cooperatively with the State of California and local air quality boards, EPA issued an AOC to Mirant for its Potrero (San Francisco) peaking turbines on April 6. These turbines are fired on distillate oil, and had taken a limit of 870 hours per year to avoid a NO<sub>x</sub> control requirement. Due to January's emergency, the ISO required Mirant to run the turbines almost continuously, and it is now close to exceeding its hour limit on some of the turbines. EPA's order, which only applies this calendar year, anticipates exceedence of the limit.

The order is paired with one from the Bay Area Air Quality Management District. The District's order additionally collects $20,000/ton to be used for emissions reductions in the area of the Potrero plant. Each of the three turbines subject to the order has a capacity of 52 MW. California executive order D-24-01 ordered local air quality management districts to modify limits on the hours of operation of power plants, provided the operators pay a mitigation fee for all excess emissions to fund pollution offset projects.

EPA is finalizing similar AOCs for facilities owned by Modesto Irrigation District and Duke energy, and expect to receive requests from IBM, the Northern California Power Agency, and the Sacramento Municipal Utility District in the near future.

Backup generator flexibility: In response to a request from the California Environmental Protection Agency, EPA sent a March 9 letter to California's Environmental Protection Agency allowing the use of emergency backup generators to avert blackouts where such blackouts are imminent. This authority will expire October 31, 2001.

RECLAIM program flexibility: On April 6, EPA issued a letter to the South Coast Air Quality Management District (SCAQMD) outlining EPA concurrence with several District proposals to add flexibility to its RECLAIM program (SCAQMD's program that allows trading to comply with CAA emissions requirements) by: 1) allow power producers to operate at high capacity this summer and make up credit shortfalls for 2001-2003 NOx exceedances in the second compliance year; 2) permit California to provide three years of NOx offsets obtained from diesel truck engine retrofits for peaker units operating this summer, and; 3) permit the District to use as offsets credits generated from categories of sources currently being expanded through the District's rulemaking process.

The result of EPA's concurrence on these points will be to permit the District to expand the pool of NOx credits available for use this summer by all power generators and, to the extent that NOx credits are not sufficient, allow offsets to be made up in a subsequent year.

Expediting natural gas infrastructure expansion to increase electricity generation

In response to a request from the State of California, and working cooperatively with the Mojave Desert Air Quality Management District, EPA issued an AOC to Williams Co. to allow immediate construction of a compressor turbine at the existing compression station of their Kern River Gas Transmission Co. facility in Daggett, CA. The new compressor turbine will come online July 1, 2001, and increase gas flow in the pipeline by about 20 percent. On April 6, FERC approved construction of a new natural gas facility in only three weeks. The Executive Director of the California Energy Commission noted the Bush Administration was moving at "lightning speed."

Expediting the review of operating permits

EPA has reduced its review of state-issued Clean Air Act operating permits from the statutorily-allowed 45 days to 5-10 days for emissions control projects associated with power generation. This is an EPA initiative not tied to any specific executive order issued by Governor Davis.

On March 14, FERC issued a series of orders designed to expedite energy supplies to California, including streamlining regulatory procedures for wholesale power sales, expediting natural gas pipelines, and urging hydropower licensees to assess the potential for increased hydropower generation.

The Army Corps of Engineers initiated discussions with power generators and concluded that 25 of the 32 first-tier priority power sites identified by the California Energy Commission do not require Department of the Army permits. The Corps is prepared to work with the remaining seven power generators on any permits that may be required.

Expediting expansion of electricity transmission

Within 24 hours of receipt of a request, the Defense Department concurred on April 5 on an application from San Diego Gas & Electric to amend a Presidential Permit to connect a new 510-megawatt Otay Mesa power plant to an existing 230,000-volt electrical transmission line and to double the number of conductors on this line. This upgrade will result in additional generation becoming available in Southern California.

I have a preference for Jaleo (the new one across street from Levante) or Austin Grill. But I can do any of above.

7:00 would be fine. Do you like Levante next to Barnes & Noble downtown?

Also, it occurs to me we should probably coordinate some of our Maryland consultation and candidate search efforts, since I'm back to the drawing board on Maryland 4th Circuit and need to do a full canvass before presenting the next recommendations.

Thanks. My conflict wasn't actually the Fried lunch -- I'm going to Sidley & Austin to talk to the summer associates. (A commitment made, unfortunately, before I knew what a busy day Wednesday was apt to be.)

I'm bach-ing it tonight. Would you have any interest in grabbing a bite

These past few months Stuart has been so kind to our group by purchasing water for us to drink. Now that he has departed, I have the responsibility of rounding up members for our water club. Past invoices show that the cost of the water is $50 per month. If you are interested in joining, please let me know. The number of members will determine the cost per person.

Please give me your thoughts on this. They would like to feature Carrie Click of Faith Based in the Pepperdine University handbook.

Thanks

Subject: Pepperdine University School of Public Policy

David,

I appreciate your getting back to me so quickly regarding our alumna, Carrie

Click who works in the Office of Faith-Based and Community Initiatives. As I mentioned on the phone, Carrie's dad, Jim Click, suggested I contact you as we are in the process of updating the view book for the School of Public Policy at Pepperdine University and are creating a new brochure about careers in public policy. In both books, we will feature a few students with photos, quotes, and a brief description of the positions they are working in. These brochures will be used primarily by Pepperdine University's School of Public Policy for student recruitment. In the next month, we will have a photographer in D.C. take photographs of several of our students at their work locations. We would like to include Carrie in this group and hoped to get a shot of her in front of the West Wing.

Pepperdine University's School of Public Policy is a 2 year graduate program offering a Master's in Public Policy - now in its 4th year. Pepperdine is located in Malibu, CA. More info can be found at <http://publicpolicy.pepperdine.edu/> and www.pepperdine.edu. I am sending you a copy of our previous brochure which will give you an example of how we plan to use the photo. This will also give you a more full description of our academic program.

I appreciate your help in ensuring that we are handling this appropriately. If we get the go ahead, I plan to coordinate with Carrie directly. Thanks for your help.

I just wanted to say good bye and thank you to everybody before I head back to Dallas. This summer has been an incredible experience and I have enjoyed working with you and learning about the Counsel's office. My email address at school is [REDACTED] PRA 6. I hope to keep in touch, and I'll let you know how my election attempt turns out. Enjoy the rest of your summer. Thank you again for allowing me to work with all of you.
Sincerely,
Bevan

Subject: Parsky meeting

Next Wednesday, the 22nd, in my office to discuss California district court and U.S. Attorney status. I expect he'll have some candidates for us for some of the U.S. Attorney slots and maybe a judgeship. Anyone who wishes to attend should feel free; attendance is not mandatory for anyone.

Subject: EO relating to Records Act

After a meeting yesterday between the White House Counsel's Office and the Archivist of the United States, and at his specific request, it was decided that an EO will not be issued this month. I will fill you in with details once I return from vacation on Monday, August 27, but we can stand down for the time being pending further discussions and consultation with Archives.

we're in already - I plan to "walk back through to get to my car" - shouldn't be hard.

i'll buzz you when we are leaving old ebbitt.

For some reason that doesn't surprise me.

Am headed to Old Ebbitt for a snack and nightcap. May catch the 10:30 fireworks on the South Lawn.

Shall we buzz you for either outing?

I would urge the larcenous among us to please refrain from pilfering furniture from either old or new offices that do not belong to you. In other words, each of us should be able to mix and match the furniture in our existing offices and our new offices without fear of disappearing pieces. Agreed?

Agreed. But I don't think Rachel was contemplating what you thought she was, but rather meant to let us know that the furniture we now have in our offices can be moved to the new offices - i.e., that we are not stuck with what is currently in the new offices.

Agreed. But I don't think Rachel was contemplating what you thought she was, but rather meant to let us know that the furniture we now have in our offices can be moved to the new offices - i.e., that we are not stuck with what is currently in the new offices.

FYI:

The photo office (rooms 173, 171, 169) told us they were having everything removed from those rooms, so Noel and I likely will have no furniture until something is moved.

I am told that this afternoon, you, your boxes, and your computer will be moved to your new office. Tomorrow, the furniture will be moved as you desire.

Re: phone and fax numbers, you will keep the same ones you are using now. Remember to pack your phone near the top of one of your boxes, and label that box with your phone number. Also, please leave the chord attached to your phone when packing it.

No one should be without a desk today in your new office. If you run into a problem, please track me down and we'll get one moved in for you.

Thank you all for your cooperation and patience.

EEOB Counsel's Office room assignments are as follows:

Room 173: Rachel Brand
Room 171: HOLD
Room 169: Noel Francisco

I have marked everything (phone, computer, boxes and all furniture) in my current office, room 156, as needing to be moved to my new office, room 161. I also have left a note on the door of room 161, asking the movers to move everything out except the television, which I wish to claim. Please advise if I need to do anything else.

I've asked West to send you a new card, but that could take up to two weeks. Let me know if you want to use my password. (they can only give passwords out to the contract's contact - and we have a girl listed who was an admin intern this spring listed for us - we're going to get that changed).

Bad news guys. I just got a call regarding parking permits. For everyone parking at State Place, you must go to Room 1 in person to swap out your parking permit, turn in the form and have your driver's license copied. You must do this today.

One of us can walk over the Judge's and Tim's form and pass (no driver's license needed).

Actually, this is more complicated and needs to be routed through our political folks. Brett Kavanaugh in our office handles this type of issue. I have forwarded this e-mail to him for his review.

Mr. Orr:

I am writing on behalf of Charlotte, NC Mayor Pat McCrory to request an electronic file picture of President Bush. Mayor McCrory is President of the Republican Mayors and Local Officials (RMLO) organization and wants to use the President's picture next to a quote from the President's inauguration speech in his re-election campaign brochure. Please let me know if you can accommodate this request. Thanks for your consideration.

REV_00419236

Counsel's Office received 10 tickets for a memorial ceremony on Thursday, Oct. 11 at 11:00 am in honor of employees and passengers of American flight #77 injured or lost. President Bush will be the keynote speaker.

These will be given to the lawyers on a first come, first serve basis that you will definitely go, first come basis.

Seats/Tickets

Seating begins at 8:30 and locked down by 10:30 so they recommend arriving no later than 10:00 am. The tickets are for White House staff only and are non-transferrable. These are "general seating" - not VIP. Photo ID and ticket are required for entrance - no exceptions.

Transportation

Parking and Metro not available so they recommend sharing cabs or being dropped off. The White House Car Service said they will be transporting folks but don't have the details on how this will work just yet. You will need to have Lori work this out for you - going as a group might work best. Judge is not going. Tim is going in the motorcade.

REV_00419238

Counsel's Office received 10 tickets for a memorial ceremony on Thursday, Oct. 11 at 11:00 am in honor of employees and passengers of American flight #77 injured or lost. President Bush will be the keynote speaker.

These will be given to the lawyers on a first come, first serve basis that you will definitely go, first serve basis.

Seats/Tickets

Seating begins at 8:30 and locked down by 10:30 so they recommend arriving no later than 10:00 am. The tickets are for White House staff only and are non-transferrable. These are "general seating" - not VIP. Photo ID and ticket are required for entrance - no exceptions.

Transportation

Parking and Metro not available so they recommend sharing cabs or being dropped off. The White House Car Service said they will be transporting folks but don't have the details on how this will work just yet. You will need to have Lori work this out for you - going as a group might work best. Judge is not going. Tim is going in the motorcade.

STATEMENT
by John W. Carlin
Archivist of the United States<sup>Stat</sup>

to the
Subcommittee on Government Efficiency, Financial Management, and Intergovernmental Relations of the Committee on Government Reform
House of Representatives
Congress of the United States

On the Implementation and Effectiveness of the Presidential Records Act of 1978

19 October 2001

Chairman Horn, Congresswoman Schakowsky, members of the Subcommittee, and Subcommittee staff, I am John Carlin, Archivist of the United States, and I thank you for the opportunity to appear before you this morning on the implementation of the Presidential Records Act. Mr. Chairman, I particularly want to thank you for holding this hearing and for your continued interest in the programs and responsibilities of the National Archives and Records Administration. We are fully aware that with the jurisdiction of this subcommittee, attention to NARA is your job. However, you have taken a particular interest in our mission during your career in Congress and the people of NARA and our many constituent groups thank you for that interest.

In order to set the foundation for this dialogue today, I would like to set out the history of the Presidential Records Act and provide the Subcommittee with an overview of our implementation to date. The Presidential Records Act (PRA) was enacted in 1978 to establish public ownership of the records created by subsequent Presidents and their staffs and to establish procedures governing the preservation and public availability of the records. As noted in the House Report accompanying the pending bill:

The legislation would terminate the tradition of private ownership of Presidential papers and the reliance on volunteerism to determine the fate of their disposition. Instead, the preservation of the historical record of future Presidents would be assured and public access to the materials would be consistent under standards affixed in law. The primary function of the Presidential libraries remains unchanged. The libraries are to continue to provide information about their holdings and to make records available to researchers upon request on an impartial basis.

H. Rep. 95-1487, at 2-3 (95th Cong., 2d Sess., Aug. 14, 1978).

The PRA mandates that the Presidential records of an Administration be transferred to the legal and physical custody of the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) immediately upon the end of the President's last term of office. The Archivist of the United States is given the independent legal "responsibility for the custody, control, and preservation of, and access to, the Presidential records of th[e former] President." 44 U.S.C. § 2203(f)(1). The PRA also requires the Archivist to appoint a Library Director in "consultation with the former President." Id. § 2203(f)(2). The Library Director balances archival and public access considerations with national security, confidentiality, and privacy concerns.

Since its enactment, NARA has taken legal custody of the Presidential records of Presidents Ronald Reagan, George H.W. Bush, and William J. Clinton. The Reagan and Bush records are housed in Presidential Libraries in Simi Valley, California and College Station, Texas, respectively. The Clinton records are stored in a records storage facility in Little Rock, Arkansas, until they can be transferred to a Presidential Library that is being constructed by former President Clinton.

The PRA applies to all Vice-Presidential records in same manner as Presidential records, and affords the former Vice-Presidents the same authority as the former Presidents. Accordingly, all of the procedures and authorities that are ascribed in this testimony to the former Presidents also apply to the former Vice-Presidents (except that Vice-Presidential records may be stored at a separate location from the Presidential records).

Responsibilities of the Archivist of the United States Under the PRA

The PRA established Government control over Presidential records while codifying and preserving some of the basic practices that long existed with respect to the papers that Presidents had donated to the National Archives (dating back to President Hoover). As the House Report on the PRA bill stated: “It is anticipated that the Archivist will process the former Administration’s papers in a manner roughly similar to current practices.” H. Rep. 95-1487, at 15. The report also stated that “the determination whether access to a Presidential record or reasonably segregable portion thereof shall be restricted shall be made by the Archivist, in his discretion, after consultation with the former President.” Id. § 2204(b)(3).

The PRA mandates that “[t]he Archivist shall have an affirmative duty to make such records available to the public as rapidly and completely as possible consistent with the provisions of this Act.” Id. § 2203(f)(1). Overall, the PRA represents an effort to legislate a “careful balance between the public’s right to know, with its vast implications to historians and other academic interests, and the rights of privacy and confidentiality of certain sensitive records generated by the President and his staff during the course of their White House activities.” Floor Statement of Congressman Thompson, Cong. Rec., Oct. 10, 1978, at 34897.

The authorities of the Archivist of the United States changed in 1984, when Congress established the National Archives and Records Administration as an independent agency. Prior to that time, the National Archives and Records Service was a component of the General Services Administration. Among the reasons that Congress expressed for making NARA a separate Federal agency was a concern about “politicization.” The Senate Report, for example, noted that “NARS’ subordination to GSA has opened the door for archival decisionmaking which is politicized, rather than professional,” and described problems dating from the Eisenhower Administration through the controversies over the Nixon tapes and materials. See S. Rep. 98-373, on the National Archives and Records Administration Act of 1983, at 10-13 (98th Cong., 2d Sess., Apr. 3, 1984). The Senate Report concluded that “the record, under both Democratic and Republican administrations, amply demonstrates the dangers of politicization which can occur under the current arrangement.” Id. at 13. The House Report raised similar concerns about the “constant threat of manipulation of the Archives’ professional processes to achieve political purposes.” H. Rep. 98-707, on the National Archives and Records Administration Act of 1984, at 5 (98th Cong., 2d Sess., Apr. 25, 1984).

Presidential Papers and Materials Prior to the PRA

Prior to the PRA, and with the exception of the materials of former President Richard M. Nixon, the Presidential papers and materials maintained under NARA’s control at the Presidential Libraries of former Presidents Hoover, Roosevelt, Truman, Eisenhower, Kennedy, Johnson, Ford, and Carter are controlled by the terms of the deeds of gift by which the former Presidents donated their records to the National Archives. Each of these deeds has provisions outlining categories of records that may be withheld from public access for some period of time. All of them seek to protect information that could harm national security, invade personal privacy, or cause embarrassment or harassment. Some also seek to protect documents involving confidential communications directly with the President. The deeds of Presidents Ford and Carter model the restrictions on the PRA exemptions.

In all instances, the Director of the Presidential Library, who is appointed by NARA in close consultation with the former President or representative, was given the independent authority and discretion to process and open the papers, with very limited involvement by the former President or representative. Living former Presidents in some cases would establish priorities for the processing of particular subjects or series of records. In other cases, a representative or review board was established – such as for Presidents Roosevelt and Kennedy because they died in office, as well as for Truman and Eisenhower – that exercised limited control over the decisions made by the Libraries. The boards' principal concern was with respect to the President's personal and family matters, and, in most cases, they disbanded after a short period of time.

Under these deeds of gift, NARA processed and opened Presidential materials based on the deeds and professional archival considerations. Moreover, because the materials at these Libraries were donated to the United States, they are not subject to request under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) or any other public access statute. This meant that the Library staff were able to process and open most records in an organized and systematic way based on how the records were filed or arranged. Such “systematic processing” is generally much more efficient and less time consuming than processing in response to FOIA requests. However, researchers have no legal recourse to challenge the withholding of records or delays in responding to requests.

The records of President Nixon are governed by the Presidential Recordings and Materials Preservation Act (PRMPA), 44 U.S.C. § 2111, note, which was passed by Congress in 1974 to ensure government control over the Nixon papers and tapes. The PRMPA also established a National Study Commission on Records and Documents of Federal Officials, which was charged with studying, among other things, “whether the historical practice regarding the records and documents produced by or on behalf of Presidents of the United States should be rejected or accepted and whether such practice should be made applicable with respect to all federal officials.” Pub. L. 93-526, 88 Stat. 1695 (December 19, 1974), sec. 202. That commission produced a final report in 1977, and its recommendations were considered by Congress in drafting the PRA. See Hearings before a Subcommittee of the Committee on Government Operations on H.R. 10998 (the Presidential Records Act of 1978) and Related Bills, 95th Cong., 2d Sess., (Feb. 23, 28, Mar. 2, 7, 1978) (PRA Hearings).

Public Access to Presidential Records

Presidential records are not subject to public access requests during the President’s term of office, and may be made available only by decision of the incumbent President. After the President leaves office, the records are also not available to public access requests for five years, unless NARA has processed an integral file segment sooner than five years. This five year period was intended principally to give NARA an opportunity to organize the records and begin systematic archival processing. At the end of the five year period, all Presidential records are subject to public access requests in accordance with the FOIA. However, for a period not to exceed 12 years from when the President leaves office, the President is authorized, but not required, to impose up to six Presidential restrictions (which must be imposed before the President leaves office and which are not subject to judicial review).

In addition, the PRA establishes that eight of the nine FOIA exemptions shall apply to Presidential records, which stay in effect after the Presidential restrictions expire. Congress specifically excluded Presidential records from the FOIA (b)(5) exemption concerning the deliberative process and other recognized privileges. Four of the six presidential restrictions are identical to corresponding FOIA exemptions: exemptions 1, for classified national security information; exemptions 3, for information protected by other statute; exemptions 4, for trade secrets and confidential business information; and exemptions 6, for unwarranted invasions of personal privacy. Presidential exemption 2 (“P2”), for “appointments to Federal office,” has no FOIA counterpart, but is subsumed, in large part, under FOIA exemption (b)(6). Presidential exemption 5 (“P5”), concerning “confidential communications requesting or submitting advice, between the President and his advisers, or between such advisers,” is similar to FOIA exemption (b)(5), and protects the disclosure of presidential communications, deliberations, and other information that could be subject to a common law or constitutionally-based privilege.

Because the PRA subjects all Presidential records to public access through the FOIA, PRA Libraries open records almost exclusively in response to FOIA requests (or mandatory declassification review requests under Executive Order 12958 on Classified National Security Information), and have very little opportunity to conduct systematic processing of records after the first five years. Moreover, Congressional and grand jury investigations and other litigation has significantly limited systematic processing even during the first five years.

PRA Restrictions

The PRA does not mandate the Presidential restrictions, but rather makes clear that they may be narrowed or waived any time after the President leaves office. Moreover, in the legislative history, Congress advised the Archivist and former Presidents to do just that:

It is also expected that the Archivist will follow past practice in applying the restrictive categories in former Presidents' deeds of gift, and negotiate with the ex-President or his representative on an on-going basis to lessen the number of years chosen for particular mandatory restriction categories, to eliminate entire categories, or to permit release of particular records otherwise restricted.

H. Rep. 95-1487, at 15. Former Presidents Reagan and Bush have both narrowed the scope of PRA exemptions P2 and P5, allowing significantly more records to be opened than what might otherwise be authorized. NARA will work with former President Clinton and his representative to try to narrow these exemptions as well.

The PRA also removes the authority to withhold Presidential records under FOIA exemption (b)(5) after the expiration of the P5 exemption. During debate on the bill, Senator Percy stated that “[a]fter the 12-year period, . . . no document should be withheld simply because it contains confidential materials; such a result would undermine a basic purpose of the legislation.

Consequently, the (b)(5) exemption has no place in this statutory scheme.” Floor Statement of Senator Percy, Cong. Rec., Oct. 13, 1978, at 36844.

In drafting the statute, Congress considered alternative time periods for how long the Presidential exemptions should be available. For example, the National Study Commission on Records and Documents of Federal Officials recommended that the restriction period be 15 years. Similarly, in his testimony on the pending legislation to establish the Presidential Records Act, the Archivist of the United States also recommended a 15-year period. On the other hand, early versions of the legislation set out a 10-year period. President Ford, in his 1976 deed of gift of his Presidential papers to the National Archives, established a 13-year restriction period, after which time all “communications made in confidence to me or between my advisors for the purpose of assisting or advising me” could be opened.

Ultimately, Congress settled on 12 years, which, in the words of Congressman Brooks, “will further insulate from partisan politics the pending public availability of a former President’s records by removing the mandatory restrictive period to include a third election cycle after the President has left office.” Floor Statement of Congressman Brooks, Cong. Rec., Oct. 5, 1978, at 33860.

The elimination of a statutory exemption in no way prevents a proper assertion of Executive privilege by the former or incumbent President. As the PRA itself notes, the incumbent and former Presidents have clear legal authority to assert an Executive privilege over the Presidential records of former Presidents: “Nothing in this Act shall be construed to confirm, limit, or expand any constitutionally-based privilege which may be available to an incumbent or former President.” 44 U.S.C. § 2204(c)(2). As Senator Percy explained, the PRA does not prevent a former or incumbent President from arguing, even after the 12-year period, that a particular confidential communication between the President and an advisor should not be released. To what extent the concept of “executive privilege” protects the confidentiality of a former or incumbent President’s communications with his advisors is an open question. If some future President believes that the 12-year closure period does not suffice, that President could object to the release of some document in the 13th or 15th or 20th year. This legislation does not resolve the outcome of such legal action; the issue would be resolved by the courts. The fourth amendment [to the pending legislation] would make it explicit that “nothing in this Act shall be construed to confirm, limit, or expand any constitutionally-based privilege which may be available to an incumbent or former President.”

Floor Statement of Senator Percy, Cong. Rec., Oct. 13, 1978, at 36844. This provision reflects the holding by the Supreme Court that the constitutionally based privileges available to a President “survive[] the individual President’s tenure.” Nixon v. Administrator of General Services, 433 U.S. 425, 449 (1977). But the Supreme Court also noted that “[t]he expectation of the confidentiality of executive communications thus has always been limited and subject to erosion over time after an administration leaves office.” Id. at 451.

Special Access to Presidential Records

In addition to establishing procedures for public access, the PRA also establishes procedures for what NARA calls “special access” to Presidential records that are otherwise closed from public access. These special access provisions are designed to accommodate requests by Congressional investigators, Federal prosecutors, other parties in litigation, and the incumbent President for the ongoing business of the current Administration. However, prior to providing such access, NARA must notify the former and incumbent Presidents and provide them an opportunity to review the records and consider whether to assert any constitutionally-based privilege.

Accordingly, either House of Congress, or a Committee or Subcommittee with appropriate jurisdiction, may request access to Presidential records. Similarly, Federal prosecutors may seek access through a grand jury subpoena, and other parties in litigation may seek access through court orders. The incumbent President may also obtain access to the records of a predecessor on behalf of his staff, such as the NSC, or any other agency, “for the conduct of current business.” 44 U.S.C. § 2205(2)(B). The former President and his designated representative are always entitled to access to the Presidential records of his Administration.

That concludes my formal statement, Mr. Chairman, and I would be happy to answer any questions at the appropriate time.

On Thursday, October 18th NASA will have a sneak preview of the IMAX3D footage of the assembly of the International Space Station. This event will be held at the Johnson IMAX Theater in the Smithsonian National

REV_00419752

Museum of Natural History located at 10th and Constitution. The 35 minute feature film will begin at 9:00 am.

IMAX3D projects images onto a nine-story screen that fills the field of vision, while audiences wear polarized glasses to get a three-dimensional effect.

If you would like more info let me know and I'll fax the invitation/letter to you. This invitation is for White House staff only.

We have to fax a list of attendees to NASA by 2:00 pm on Wednesday so let me know by 1:30 tomorrow if you want to attend.

The Department of Justice has been of great assistance to us in putting this bill together. In particular, I would like to thank Attorney General John Ashcroft and his Deputy Larry Thompson for their wise counsel, their leadership, and their quick response to our many questions and concerns. Michael Chertoff, the Assistant Attorney General for the Criminal Division was a frequent participant in our meetings, as was Assistant Attorneys General Dan Bryant and Viet Dinh. Justice Department lawyers Jennifer Newstead, John Yoo, John Elwood, Pat O'Brien, and Carl Thorsen were also important and valuable participants in this process.

The White House Counsel and Congressional Liaison staff provided essential contributions at all stages of this process. Judge Al Gonzales, the White House Counsel, provided key guidance with the help of his gifted staff, including Deputy White House Counsel Tim Flanagan and Associate Counsels Courtney Elwood, Brett Kavanaugh, and Brad Berenson.

The White House Congressional Liaison office, together with the Vice President's office, worked nonstop to keep this process moving forward and were critically responsive to any requests the Senate had. Nick Calio, Ziad Ojakli, and Heather Wingate with the White House, and Nancy Dorn and Candy Wolff with the Vice President's office, deserve our gratitude for all the assistance they have given us.

By Mike Allen and George Lardner Jr.
Washington Post Staff Writers

A plan by President Bush to assert control over the records of his last three predecessors drew criticism yesterday from President Bill Clinton and several historians, with critics contending that Bush's policy would have prevented the release of the Watergate tapes.

Administration officials said Bush plans to issue an executive order that would allow either former presidents or the White House to withhold presidential papers from the public. A House subcommittee plans a hearing next week, and critics vowed a court challenge.

The order imposes broad restrictions on the Presidential Records Act of 1978, which made papers of future presidents the property of the National Archives, following a court fight over President Richard Nixon's papers.
Administration officials said it was prompted by a request for 68,000 pages of records of President Ronald Reagan, the first president whose records are subject to the act.

Under Bush's order, either the incumbent president or the former president?and in some cases, the family of a deceased president?could veto the release of documents requested by scholars, journalists or others.

White

House counsel Alberto R. Gonzales said any decision to withhold documents could be challenged in court, and said the administration would lose if a particular decision did not have solid constitutional grounding. He acknowledged that process could take years. Gonzales said the White House had not created any new privileges or obstacles, but 'simply implemented an orderly process to deal with this information.'

'There's a recognition of the importance, for historical reasons, of releasing as much information as we can, being mindful of the fact that there may be reasons that it's inappropriate or harmful to this country not to release certain information,' Gonzales said. 'I think we would err on trying to release as much information as we possibly can.'

Gonzales, briefing reporters in a conference room that once was a hideaway office for Nixon, said the administration plans to 'give a lot of deference to the former president.' But he said the incumbent president 'will be in a better position to decide whether or not the release of documents of a former President do, in fact, jeopardize, say, the national security of this country.'

A Clinton aide said a representative of the president objected to the decision in a recent letter to the White House, arguing that sufficient protections are already on the books. The aide said yesterday that Bush's executive order could hamper public trust in government.

'A government's legitimacy is based on the trust of its people, and when decisions are made on behalf of the American people, citizens eventually have to be able to see the process of how those decisions came to be,' the aide said. The letter was written by Bruce Lindsey, Clinton's deputy White House counsel and now the lawyer for the William J. Clinton Foundation.

Historians said vast troves of documents offering insight into presidential decision-making could be lost, and opponents of Bush's plan said the new policy could have prevented the Watergate tapes from being made public. These opponents said Bush's order would crimp the Presidential Records Act of 1978, which put the papers of future presidents into the public domain, following a court fight over Nixon's papers.

The act applies to the papers of Clinton, Reagan, and Bush's father, President George W. Bush. Many officials of the Reagan and first Bush administration are back in the White House, and critics contend that the executive order may be motivated by a desire to protect them. The White House said the order is necessary because of a law that went into effect this year and required an implementation procedure.

Bush's plan was reported yesterday by The Washington Post. Gonzales said the order would be signed soon, but it will be finalized. He said he would not release the planned order, but the Federation of American Scientist posted an Oct. 29 draft on its Web site (www.fas.org).

A House Government Reform subcommittee headed by Rep. Stephen Horn (R-Calif.) will hold a hearing on the mushrooming dispute Tuesday. A subcommittee spokesman said the White House would be invited to testify.

Anna K. Nelson, a historian at American University who specializes in the declassification of government records, said Bush appeared to be trying to set a precedent that would give him full control over his own papers 12 years after he leaves office. 'This order sets up a minefield in front of what was a straightforward piece of legislation,' she said. 'It's going to cause a lot of political problems because different parties take over the White House from time to time.'

Thomas S. Blanton, executive director of the National Security Archive, a private research institute specializing in U.S. documents obtained through the Freedom of Information Act, asserted that the new executive order would have prevented release of Nixon's tapes, since courts tend to 'bend over backwards to defer to the government's claims unless on their face those claims are absurd.'

'The default setting for this new system is secrecy,' Blanton said. 'The Presidential Records Act was designed to shift power over presidential records from presidents personally to the government and ultimately to the citizens. This shifts the power back.'

Gonzales said the process being set up by Bush calls for both the former and incumbent presidents to render their judgments 'in 90 days, if at all possible.' He said challenges would be handled by the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia. 'The requester will have to show compelling circumstance or need to override that privilege,' Gonzales said.

Gonzales referred repeatedly to national security as a possible justification for withholding records. 'It is the responsibility of this president, now, to protect the national security of this country,' he said. However, critics said national security is already protected by the 1978 act and other laws and regulations.

3rd Circuit Seat in N.J. Could Go to Pennsylvanian

REV_00420622

White House advances name of federal judge from Philadelphia to fill spot vacated by Greenberg

By Charles Toutant
New Jersey Law Journal

New Jersey's lack of Republican clout is already taking a toll, as a federal judge from Pennsylvania seems the leading contender to fill a Third Circuit seat that traditionally has belonged to New Jersey, according to sources close to the process.

At the urging of Sen. Arlen Specter, R-Pa., the White House is considering U.S. District Judge Eduardo Robreno for the spot Circuit Judge Morton Greenberg vacated last year upon taking senior status.

Robreno's nomination, if confirmed, would break an unwritten understanding that four of the 14 seats on the Third Circuit should go to New Jersey judges.

But with no Republican senators - nor, come January, even a GOP governor - to stand guard, the judgeship seems ripe for the plucking.

Even though Sen. Robert Torricelli has expressed concern to the White House, he has also agreed to hold a meeting with Robreno, according to a source close to the senator.

Making the matter more irksome is that Torricelli, along with Sen. Jon Corzine, had gone along tacitly with the Bush administration's intended nomination of Christopher Christie for U.S. attorney, despite the local federal bar's hue and cry that he lacks criminal trial experience and boasts only political credentials.

Last week, federal practitioners and judges alike were taken aback by the news of Robreno's candidacy.

"I was told this was a seat that might end up in the Pennsylvania section and I am absolutely distressed by that thought," says Judge Leonard Garth, a senior judge from New Jersey on the Third Circuit. "This has traditionally been a New Jersey seat. There is no reason New Jersey should be deprived of the four active seats," Garth says.

The potential loss of a seat on the court comes at a time when New Jersey's share of the appeals the court hears is on the rise, says Donald Robinson of Newark's Robinson & Livelli and a past president of the Association of the Federal Bar of the State of New Jersey.

Cutting the number of New Jersey judges on the court also would deprive New Jersey litigants of a fair shake, according to Robinson.

"The jurists have to be familiar with the laws of the state. Suppose it's an appeal from New Jersey and New Jersey state law is involved. You want a judge on the case who's familiar with New Jersey law," says Robinson.

Although he lives in Philadelphia, Robreno is no stranger to the Garden State, having graduated in 1978 from Rutgers Law School-Camden, where he has taught part time since 1994. This semester, he is teaching a class called Law of Politics. He was admitted to practice in New Jersey in 1978 and worked for the Philadelphia firm of Fox, Rothschild, O'Brien & Frankel before being appointed to the District Court bench in 1992. Born in Cuba, he was the first Cuban-American federal judge in the United States, according to the Web site of his undergraduate alma mater, Westfield State College in Massachusetts.

One source familiar with the White House's discussions on the Third Circuit vacancy says that if Robreno is nominated, he would move to New Jersey and be nominated as a New Jersey judge. Robreno declines to comment on his possible elevation.

Garth notes that the possible evaluation of Robreno would mark the third time in the past 10 years that Pennsylvania leaders have tried to expand their state's representation on the Third Circuit, but the past two incursions, in 1991 and 1998, were successfully opposed by New Jersey's senators.

In May 2000, President Clinton nominated Judge Stephen Orlofsky to the vacancy, but Orlofsky never got a confirmation hearing, and the nomination died when Clinton left office.

Federal judicial rules, at 28 U.S.C. 44, do not set quotas for apportionment of seats on appeals courts among the states, but only specify that each appeals court should have at least one representative from each state in the circuit.

At present, seven judges from Pennsylvania, three from New Jersey and two from Delaware sit on the appeals court. The New Jersey judges are Samuel Alito Jr., Maryanne Trump Barry and Julio Fuentes. Two judgeships on the court are vacant. A Pennsylvania judge, D. Brooks Smith, was nominated in September for one of the vacancies.

A Torricelli spokeswoman declines to comment on the nomination process. Specter's press secretary, Bill Reynolds, also declines to comment, referring questions to the White House. "It's their call and they'll make any announcements," Reynolds said. The White House Press Office didn't return calls last Friday.

Hey -

I think Scott is trying to scare up an extra fax machine or two for Counsel's Office.

If at least one can be found and installed sooner rather than later for Brett Kavanaugh in OEOB 156 we would be most appreciative. Brett often works very late nights and on pretty time sensitive and sensitive material tasks so having a fax in his office would be of great help.

Thanks!

Subject: Re: recommendations and wh letterhead

I think it would be appropriate for a recommendation to be given by a WH employee for another WH employee based on the recommender's knowledge of the other employee's work in the WH.

Subject: recommendations and wh letterhead

With respect to recommendations for admission to graduate school (one white house employee recommending another white house employee), is it permissible for the recommender to use white house stationery/letterhead? And are there other rules that are relevant? Thanks. Mike

Please hold 8:45-9:30 am for a Counsel Office Christmas Breakfast over here.

This event will allow us the opportunity to celebrate the December birthdays of Jesus, Laura and Helgi.

If you are interested in contributing to the cause by bringing a breakfast item please let me know. If not no worries - this will be a laid back gig.

Thanks!

Just talked to Faith: Please coordinate with Albert Hawkins at Cabinet
Affairs. He has been assigned to get original to you (and can presumably copy in interim). Please let me know ASAP if you have any problems.
FAX a

bart, could you do tues and wed? if so, i think we'll have a plan, as bk has indicated he is willing to consider sunday and monday night, though he is not committed.

the instant plan would be a second-choice alternative to expansion of the pool, as suggested by bk's prior email.

The Honorable Phil Gramm
Ranking Member
Committee on Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs
U.S. Senate
Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Senator Gramm:

We are writing to you to offer the views of the United States Mint on H.R. 3054, a bill passed by the House of Representatives on December 18, and S. 1841, pending before the United States Senate, to award congressional gold medals to the emergency workers, officers, and other employees of the Federal government and any State or local government who responded to the attacks on the World Trade Center in New York City on September 11. The bill also provides gold medals to the passengers and crew of United Airlines Flight 93 who worked to resist the hijackers and perished in that valiant effort.

Like the Congress, the U.S. Mint has been exploring several options to commemorate the tragedy of September 11 and the fallen heroes of that tragedy with a commemorative coin or medal program. We would strongly recommend that any coin or medal program passed by Congress appropriately honor all of the fallen heroes and victims from the September 11 tragedy, including the World Trade Center, the Pentagon, and all four flights.

We also believe that it is important for the Committee to know of several technical problems that we have identified in H.R. 3054/S. 1841. In addition to the exclusion of the full impact of the tragedy:

Sections 2(c) and (f) would require that the Secretary of the Treasury determine the appropriate recipients of the medals after consultation with appropriate representatives of Federal, State and local agencies. We do not believe that the Secretary of the Treasury is the appropriate person to make the final determination as to the recipients of the medals, and therefore would recommend that those sections be amended to provide that the Governors of New York and New Jersey provide the official certification of the names of the appropriate recipients of gold medals from their respective States.

Section 3(b) would require that the Attorney General identify the passengers or crew members on board United Airlines Flight 93 who "aided in the effort to resist the hijackers on board the plane" in order to award gold medals posthumously to them. We defer to the Attorney General as to whether there are technical concerns with this provision similar to those we have identified with respect to sections 2(c) and (f). However, we would wish to note that it would be difficult for anyone not on board Flight 93 to determine who was or was not a hero, as is the case for the other flights.

Section 2(h) would provide that the amounts received from the sale of duplicate bronze medals be deposited in a fund for the construction of a memorial for the fallen emergency personnel who responded to the tragedy. We would recommend that the proceeds from the sale of the duplicate bronze medals authorized under section 2(g) be used to reimburse the U.S. Mint Public Enterprise Fund for its costs of producing and selling the medals, and that any additional amounts be deposited into the memorial fund.

Section 2(i) states the sense of Congress that the medals be designed, struck and presented “not more than 90 days” after the date of enactment. This provision is setting extraordinarily high expectations considering the large number of medals to be produced and the process that would need to be undertaken to determine the appropriate recipients. We would recommend that section 2(i) be revised to provide that the medals be designed, struck and presented “as soon as practicable” after the enactment date.

Finally, Public Law 107-12, the Public Safety Officer Medal of Valor Act, already provides an existing vehicle for honoring meritorious officers and individuals addressed by H.R. 3054/S. 1841.

We are most willing to work with you and your Committee to develop an appropriate gold medal or commemorative coin program which suitably recognizes the fallen heroes and victims in the World Trade Center, the Pentagon, the crash of the four flights associated with the tragedy, along with the public safety officers and heroes of those tragedies.

Please feel free to contact me to further discuss these concerns. I can be reached at (202) 354-7200.

Sincerely,

Henrietta Holsman Fore
Director
United States Mint

TRUE AMERICAN HEROES ACT -- (House of Representatives - December 18, 2001)

Mr. KING. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 3054) to award congressional gold medals on behalf of the officers, emergency workers, and other employees of the Federal Government and any State or local government, including any interstate governmental entity, who responded to the attacks on the World Trade Center in New York City and perished in the tragic events of September 11, 2001, as amended.

The Clerk read as follows:

H.R. 3054

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the ``True American Heroes Act''.

SEC. 2. CONGRESSIONAL GOLD MEDALS FOR GOVERNMENT WORKERS WHO RESPONDED TO THE ATTACKS ON THE WORLD TRADE CENTER AND PERISHED.

(a) PRESENTATION AUTHORIZED.--In recognition of the bravery and self-sacrifice of officers, emergency workers, and other employees of State and local government agencies, including the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey, and of the United States Government, who responded to the attacks on the World Trade Center in New York City, and perished in the tragic events of September 11, 2001 (including those who are missing and presumed dead), the President is authorized to present, on behalf of the Congress, a gold medal of appropriate design for each such officer, emergency worker, or employee to the next of kin or other representative of each such officer, emergency worker, or employee.

(b) DESIGN AND STRIKING.--For purposes of the presentation referred to in subsection (a), the Secretary of the Treasury shall strike gold medals with suitable emblems, devices, and inscriptions to be determined by the Secretary to be emblematic of the valor and heroism of the men and women honored.

(c) DETERMINATION OF RECIPIENTS.--The Secretary of the Treasury shall determine the number of medals to be presented under this section and the appropriate recipients of the medals after consulting with appropriate representatives of Federal, State, and local officers and agencies and the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey.

(d) PRESENTMENT CEREMONY.--The President shall consult with the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, the majority leader and the minority leader of the House of Representatives, and the majority leader and the minority leader of the Senate with regard to the ceremony for presenting the gold medals under subsection (a).

(e) DUPLICATIVE GOLD MEDALS FOR DEPARTMENTS AND DUTY STATIONS.--

(1) IN GENERAL.--The Secretary of the Treasury shall strike duplicates in gold of the gold medals struck pursuant to subsection (a) for presentation to each of the following:

(A) The Governor of the State of New York.

(B) The Mayor of the City of New York.

(C) The Commissioner of the New York Police Department, the Commissioner of the New York Fire Department, the head of emergency medical services for the City of New York, and the Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey.

(D) Each precinct house, fire house, emergency response station, or other duty station or place of employment to which each person referred to in subsection (a) was assigned on September 11, 2001, for display in each such place in a manner befitting the memory of such persons.

(f) DETERMINATION OF RECIPIENTS.--The Secretary of the Treasury shall determine the number of medals to be presented under subsection (e) and the appropriate recipients of the medals after consulting with appropriate representatives of Federal, State, and local officers and agencies and the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey.

(g) DUPLICATE BRONZE MEDALS.--The Secretary of the Treasury may strike and sell duplicates in bronze of the gold medal struck pursuant to subsection (a) under such regulations as the Secretary may prescribe, at a price of $50 per medal.

(h) PROCEEDS OF SALE.--Amounts received from the sales of duplicate bronze medals under subsection (g) shall be deposited in a fund to be used to erect a memorial for the fallen emergency responders.

(i) USE OF THE UNITED STATES MINT AT WEST POINT, NEW YORK.--It is the sense of the Congress that the medals authorized under this section should--

(1) be designed, struck, and presented not more than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act; and

(2) be struck at the United States Mint at West Point, New York, to the greatest extent possible.

SEC. 3. CONGRESSIONAL GOLD MEDALS FOR PEOPLE ABOARD UNITED AIRLINES FLIGHT 93 WHO HELPED RESIST THE HIJACKERS AND CAUSED THE PLANE TO CRASH.

(a) CONGRESSIONAL FINDINGS.--The Congress finds as follows:

(1) On September 11, 2001, United Airlines Flight 93, piloted by Captain James Dahl, departed from Newark International Airport at 8:01 a.m. on its scheduled route to San Francisco, California, with 7 crew members and 38 passengers on board.

(2) Shortly after departure, United Airlines Flight 93 was hijacked by terrorists.

(3) At 10:37 a.m. United Airlines Flight 93 crashed near Shanksville, Pennsylvania.

(4) Evidence indicates that people aboard United Airlines Flight 93 learned that other hijacked planes had been used to attack the World Trade Center in New York City and resisted the actions of the hijackers on board.

(5) The effort to resist the hijackers aboard United Airlines Flight 93 appears to have caused the plane to crash prematurely, potentially saving hundreds or thousands of lives and preventing the destruction of the White House, the Capitol, or another important symbol of freedom and democracy.

(6) The leaders of the resistance aboard United Airlines Flight 93 demonstrated exceptional bravery, valor, and patriotism, and are worthy of the appreciation of the people of the United States.

(b) PRESENTATION OF CONGRESSIONAL GOLD MEDALS AUTHORIZED.--The President is authorized to award posthumously, on behalf of Congress and in recognition of heroic service to the Nation, gold medals of appropriate design to any passengers or crew members on board United Airlines Flight 93 who are identified by the Attorney General as having aided in the effort to resist the hijackers on board the plane.

(c) DESIGN AND STRIKING.--For the purpose of the presentation referred to in subsection (b), the Secretary of the Treasury shall strike gold medals of a single design with suitable emblems, devices, and inscriptions, to be determined by the Secretary.

(d) DUPLICATE MEDALS.--Under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, the Secretary may strike and sell duplicates in bronze of the gold medals struck under subsection (b) at a price sufficient to cover the cost of the bronze medals (including labor, materials, dies, use of machinery, and overhead expenses) and the cost of the gold medals.

SEC. 4. NATIONAL MEDALS.

The medals struck under this Act are national medals for purposes of chapter 51 of title 31, United States Code.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from New York (Mr. KING) and the gentlewoman from New York (Mrs. MALONEY) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from New York (Mr. KING).

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. KING. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks on H.R. 3054, and to include extraneous material on the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from New York?

There was no objection.

,Dear Senator Sarbanes/Gramm:

It is my understanding that the Senate may shortly take under consideration S. 1841, "The True American Heroes Act." We commend the Congress for its recognition of the heroes who lost their lives in the terrorist attacks on September 11th and we look forward to working with the Congress to develop a Congressional Gold Medal to honor them.

We do, however, have several technical concerns with S. 1841 that, due to the short time left in this Congressional session, have not been addressed. Among our concerns, the legislation requires the Secretary of the Treasury to determine the appropriate recipients of the medals to honor the public safety officials who perished at the World Trade Center. We believe the Secretary is not the most appropriate person to make these determinations. We would recommend that the bill be amended to provide that the Governors of New York and New Jersey provide the official certification of the appropriate recipients from their respective States. Additionally, the legislation does not allow the U.S. Mint to recoup the cost of producing and selling the duplicate bronze medals.

We look forward to working with you on this special tribute. Should you have any questions please feel free to contact me at (202) 354-7200.

Sincerely,

HHF
Director
US Mint

Ken,

The resume attached is Michigan law student who would like an internship in the White House. His father is one of my partners. Thought the Michigan connection might be of interest. The young man does not expect to be paid. Let me know if you have any interest.

See you tomorrow morning at BWI.

Concert Masters

Litigators at Kirkland always expect to call the tune, set the beat, and finish first

Susan Beck
The American Lawyer
January 3, 2002

Trial lawyers are, by nature, alpha dogs. But no big firm embraces that culture so jubilantly as Kirkland & Ellis. "We love to try cases," brags litigation partner Thomas Yannucci. "The internal culture is that you're a wimp if your case is not tried."

Since the start of 2000, Kirkland's litigation warriors have gone to trial in more than 25 cases. These include: a defense verdict for Motorola Inc., in a contaminated groundwater case in Arizona; a win for NL Industries Inc., in a lead paint chip case in Baltimore; and a favorable outcome for cigarette maker Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corporation in Brooklyn.

"Other firms have great trial lawyers, but not as many," asserts Yannucci, who handled the firm's presentation to The American Lawyer. We can't vouch for that, but we can say that Kirkland is not a firm prone to modesty. Still, with a stable of stars like David Bernick, Jeffrey Davidson, Michael Jones and William Pratt, the Chicago-based firm can legitimately boast of a deep trial bench.

Michael McGraw, executive vice president at Brown & Williamson, credits Kirkland with helping the company rethink its basic trial strategy after it lost a few individual cases brought by smokers (not handled by Kirkland & Ellis). The firm convinced the company to spend more time telling its side of the story, instead of focusing exclusively on attacking the plaintiffs' conduct, says McGraw: "They did an incredible job of digging into documents to craft that part of the case and making sure [the company] had good corporate witnesses." Since then, McGraw says, the tobacco company has won more than a dozen individual cases without a single loss.

While other firms try the individual smokers' cases, Kirkland serves as lead trial counsel for Brown & Williamson in the massive cases brought by third-party plaintiffs, such as insurance companies and asbestos makers. These parties seek reimbursement for claims they've paid for lung ailments.

Starting in the fall of 2000, Chicago partner Bernick squared off with the Manville Personal Injury Settlement Trust in a Brooklyn federal court in Falise v. American Tobacco Co., et al. The trust, represented by Ness Motley Loadholt Richardson & Poole of Barnwell, S.C., and San Francisco-based Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe, was trying to recoup billions of dollars from several cigarette makers.

"We were very nervous about this case," says McGraw. That was because it was before Jack Weinstein, a famously strong-willed federal judge who had a docket full of similar tobacco cases brought by third parties. As the first of these suits to go to trial, Falise was in effect a test case that would influence the resolution of the rest.

At trial Bernick, who took the lead for all the defendants, stressed that Manville could not show that any misconduct by tobacco makers caused the trust to pay more money to claimants than it would have otherwise. Manville was aware of smoking's health effects when it paid these claims, he argued.

The seven-week trial ended with the jury deadlocked 10-to-2 in favor of the tobacco companies, and Judge Weinstein declared a mistrial. Manville dropped the case, and soon after a different asbestos trust abandoned its as well.

In Arizona, Kirkland partner Garrett Johnson rolled the dice last year in a class action against Motorola. The longtime Kirkland client, as well as other defendants, were targeted by Scottsdale homeowners who claimed that groundwater contamination had hurt their property values. Other defendants settled, but Motorola, facing claims of $266 million plus punitive damages, went to trial after nine years of pretrial wrangling. The company conceded that it had dumped a toxic solvent around its electronics plant, but asserted that its actions weren't negligent based on practices at the time, and that property values hadn't slipped.

After a four-month trial, Motorola came away with a defense verdict. With more litigation looming on medical monitoring claims and other issues, the plaintiffs settled all actions against Motorola for $15 million.

"By taking the case to trial and winning, they paid less than their fair share," says Phoenix plaintiffs' lawyer Anthony Lucia, who adds that the Kirkland team was "very, very good."

The firm doesn't like to play second fiddle, or even co-fiddle. "We don't like to be in a co-counsel situation," Yannucci says. "One firm tends to be dominant, and you don't want to be in [the weaker] position. We think were better than everybody else."

Kirkland litigators' reputation for aggressiveness pleases clients like Peter Kreindler, senior vice president and general counsel of Honeywell International Inc. "When you get a tough case and you want to maintain a tough posture, you can't find anyone better," he insists. This style doesn't suit everyone. "[They're] unnecessarily aggressive. That is not a quality I would look for," comments one lawyer at a major financial institution who observed Kirkland on the other side of a case and asked not to be identified.

The firm is proud of its hard-nosed reputation, but Yannucci insists they don't go over the line. He suggests that any criticism leveled against the firm smacks of sour grapes: "People will resent you if you make them look bad."

Kirkland's aggressive attitude was clearly on display during the reporting of this story. During interviews, firm lawyers didn't hesitate to crow that they were the best of the breed. "We can be very tough in deposition and in trial because we know how to do it," says Yannucci. And Johnson evidently couldn't resist concluding his last interview with one more bit of bragging:

"Let me leave you with one final thought," he said. "We're better than all those other guys." Well, Garrett, maybe next time.

President Bush Signs Landmark Education Reforms into Law

Bipartisan Effort Reaps Historic Freedom and Flexibility for Tennessee Schools

"These reforms express my deep belief in our public schools and their mission to build the mind and character of every child, from every background, in every part of America."

— President George W. Bush

President Bush vowed to make educating every child his number-one domestic priority and reform a system that – despite nearly $200 billion in federal funding since 1965 – has failed the neediest in our nation's classrooms.

In response, President Bush proposed a comprehensive, bipartisan plan to improve overall student performance and close the achievement gap between rich and poor students in America's more than 89,599 public schools.

In his first year in office, the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001 was passed with an overwhelming majority in both houses of Congress. On January 8, 2002, the President signed into law this landmark legislation that promotes educational excellence for America's:

- ✓ Estimated 46.8 million public school children
- ✓ Nearly 3 million public school teachers
- ✓ More than 89,599 public schools
- ✓ Nearly 17,000 local school districts

The No Child Left Behind Act Ushers in Sweeping Reforms Based Upon the President's Priorities for Schools throughout America and Tennessee:

➤ Stronger Accountability for Results

- ✓ Provides the most sweeping reform of the Elementary & Secondary Education Act since it was enacted in 1965 by turning federal spending on schools into a federal investment in improved student performance
- ✓ Redefines the federal role in K-12 education for an estimated 916,202 students in Tennessee by requiring all states to set high standards of achievement and create a system of accountability to measure results
- ✓ Insists that states set high standards for achievement in reading and math — the building blocks of all learning – and test every child in grades 3 through 8 to ensure that students are making progress

➤ Greater Flexibility and Local Control

- ✓ Offers school districts powerful tools to provide the best possible education to all children – especially those most in need – by cutting federal red tape, reducing the number of federal education programs, and creating larger more flexible programs that place decision-making at the local level where it belongs
- ✓ Trusts local parents, educators and school boards to make the best decisions for their children
- ✓ Frees local school districts to spend up to half their federal education dollars however they see fit

➤ Expanded Options and Choice for Parents

- ✓ Empowers parents by providing unprecedented federal support for children from disadvantaged backgrounds who are trapped in low-performing schools
  - Students in failing schools may transfer to higher-performing public schools or get help such as tutoring
  - Students in persistently dangerous schools may transfer to safer public schools
- ✓ Informs parents by requiring states to provide annual report cards of school performance and statewide progress
  - Requirement arms parents with information about the quality of their children's schools, the qualifications of teachers, and their children's progress in key subjects

➤ Emphasis on Teaching Methods that Work

- ✓ Supports reading instruction based upon research-based methods that work to ensure that every child in Tennessee public schools reads at or above grade level by third grade
- ✓ Strengthens teacher quality for an estimated 1,554 public schools in Tennessee by investing in training and retention of high-quality teachers

The Leave No Child Behind Act Provides Resources to Support the Reforms:

- ✓ Increases federal education funding under the ESEA to more than $22.1 billion for America's elementary and secondary schools – a 27 percent increase over last year, and a 49 percent increase over 2000 levels
- ✓ Increases federal funding to an estimated $10.4 billion for the Title I program to help disadvantaged students succeed – an 18 percent increase over last year, and a 30 percent increase over 2000 levels
- ✓ Provides nearly $3 billion in federal funding to recruit and retain highly qualified teachers and principals
- ✓ Boosts funding for reading programs to nearly $1 billion so every child in America learns to read
- ✓ Provides an estimated $200 million for charter schools to expand parental choice and free children trapped in persistently failing schools

The No Child Left Behind Act is Especially Good News for the Children and Families in Tennessee:

- ✓ Benefits an estimated 916,202 Tennessee public school children, 1,554 Tennessee public schools, and 56,971 Tennessee teachers
- ✓ Increases federal education funding for Tennessee to more than $745.3 million to help local schools ensure that no child is left behind – more than $83 million more than last years, and a 28 percent increase over 2000 levels
- ✓ Increases Title I funding to more than $174.2 million to boost the quality of education for disadvantaged children of Tennessee – more than $25 million more than last year, and a 22 percent increase over 2000 levels
- ✓ Provides more than $14.3 million in funding for Reading First to ensure that every public school child in Tennessee learns to read at or above grade level by the third grade
- ✓ Requires every classroom in Tennessee to have a highly-qualified teacher and provides more than $47.4 million to train and retain skilled educators
- ✓ Provides an estimated $7.3 million to help ensure safe and drug-free schools in Tennessee
- ✓ Provides an estimated $4.4 million to fund after-school programs for at-risk children in Tennessee
- ✓ Provides more than $6.9 million in funding to help Tennessee school districts assess how well children are learning and schools are teaching
- ✓ Increases Pell Grant funding to an estimated $179 million – $11.8 million more than last year, and a 24.5 percent increase over 2000 levels – to ensure greater access to a college education for deserving Tennessee students from disadvantaged backgrounds

- ✓ Insists that states set high standards for achievement in reading and math — the building blocks of all learning – and test every child in grades 3 through 8 to ensure that students are making progress

➤ Greater Flexibility and Local Control

- ✓ Offers school districts powerful tools to provide the best possible education to all children – especially those most in need – by cutting federal red tape, reducing the number of federal education programs, and creating larger more flexible programs that place decision-making at the local level where it belongs
- ✓ Trusts local parents, educators and school boards to make the best decisions for their children
- ✓ Frees local school districts to spend up to half their federal education dollars however they see fit

➤ Expanded Options and Choice for Parents

- ✓ Empowers parents by providing unprecedented federal support for children from disadvantaged backgrounds who are trapped in low-performing schools
  - Students in failing schools may transfer to higher-performing public schools or get help such as tutoring
  - Students in persistently dangerous schools may transfer to safer public schools
- ✓ Informs parents by requiring states to provide annual report cards of school performance and statewide progress
  - Requirement arms parents with information about the quality of their children's schools, the qualifications of teachers, and their children's progress in key subjects

➤ Emphasis on Teaching Methods that Work

- ✓ Supports reading instruction based upon research-based methods that work to ensure that every child in Puerto Rico public schools reads at or above grade level by third grade
- ✓ Strengthens teacher quality for an estimated 1,523 public schools in Puerto Rico by investing in training and retention of high-quality teachers

The Leave No Child Behind Act Provides Resources to Support the Reforms:

- ✓ Increases federal education funding under the ESEA to more than $22.1 billion for America's elementary and secondary schools – a 27 percent increase over last year, and a 49 percent increase over 2000 levels
- ✓ Increases federal funding to an estimated $10.4 billion for the Title I program to help disadvantaged students succeed – an 18 percent increase over last year, and a 30 percent increase over 2000 levels
- ✓ Provides nearly $3 billion in federal funding to recruit and retain highly qualified teachers and principals
- ✓ Boosts funding for reading programs to nearly $1 billion so every child in America learns to read
- ✓ Provides an estimated $200 million for charter schools to expand parental choice and free children trapped in persistently failing schools

The No Child Left Behind Act is Especially Good News for the Children and Families in Puerto Rico:

- ✓ Benefits an estimated 613,019 Puerto Rico public school children, 1,523 Puerto Rico public schools, and 41,708 Puerto Rico teachers
- ✓ Increases federal education funding for Puerto Rico to more than $1.2 billion to help local schools ensure that no child is left behind – more than $159 million more than last year, and a 30.6 percent increase over 2000 levels
- ✓ Increases Title I funding to more than $376 million to boost the quality of education for disadvantaged children of Puerto Rico – nearly $83 million more than last year, and a 32.9 percent increase over 2000 levels
- ✓ Provides more than $27.3 million in funding for Reading First to ensure that every public school child in Puerto Rico learns to read at or above grade level by the third grade
- ✓ Requires every classroom in Puerto Rico to have a highly-qualified teacher and provides more than $93.8 million to train and retain skilled educators
- ✓ Provides an estimated $11.8 million to help ensure safe and drug-free schools in Puerto Rico
- ✓ Provides an estimated $9.3 million to fund after-school programs for at-risk children in Puerto Rico
- ✓ Provides more than $6.3 million in funding to help Puerto Rico school districts assess how well children are learning and schools are teaching
- ✓ Increases Pell Grant funding to an estimated $545 million – $44.3 million more than last year, and a 27.2 percent increase over 2000 levels – to ensure greater access to a college education for deserving Puerto Rico students from disadvantaged backgrounds

President Bush Signs Landmark Education Reforms into Law

Bipartisan Effort Reaps Historic Freedom and Flexibility for Rhode Island Schools

"These reforms express my deep belief in our public schools and their mission to build the mind and character of every child, from every background, in every part of America."

— President George W. Bush

President Bush vowed to make educating every child his number-one domestic priority and reform a system that – despite nearly $200 billion in federal funding since 1965 – has failed the neediest in our nation's classrooms.

In response, President Bush proposed a comprehensive, bipartisan plan to improve overall student performance and close the achievement gap between rich and poor students in America's more than 89,599 public schools.

In his first year in office, the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001 was passed with an overwhelming majority in both houses of Congress. On January 8, 2002, the President signed into law this landmark legislation that promotes educational excellence for America's:

- ✓ Estimated 46.8 million public school children
- ✓ Nearly 3 million public school teachers
- ✓ More than 89,599 public schools
- ✓ Nearly 17,000 local school districts

The No Child Left Behind Act Ushers in Sweeping Reforms Based Upon the President's Priorities for Schools throughout America and Rhode Island:

➤ Stronger Accountability for Results

- ✓ Provides the most sweeping reform of the Elementary & Secondary Education Act since it was enacted in 1965 by turning federal spending on schools into a federal investment in improved student performance
- ✓ Redefines the federal role in K-12 education for an estimated 156,454 students in Rhode Island by requiring all states to set high standards of achievement and create a system of accountability to measure results
- ✓ Insists that states set high standards for achievement in reading and math — the building blocks of all learning – and test every child in grades 3 through 8 to ensure that students are making progress

Well, I guess the good news is that it's now in the public record that
"Kavanaugh himself was intelligent, sincere, informative, and constructive."

Travel & Lodging

For those flying, we recommend flying into Bradley Airport (BDL) in Hartford, Connecticut. We ask that you pay for your own ticket, then keep the receipts and send them to the national office for reimbursement. Their address is:

The Federalist Society for Law and Public Policy
1015 18th Street NW
Suite 425
Washington, DC 20036

Please let Bert Kwan, our Travel and Lodging manager, know if you wish to stay in a hotel or have made other plans. Those who request hotel lodging will be staying at the Omni in downtown New Haven (near the intersection of Temple and Elm streets). If you are planning to stay at the Omni, please let Bert know how many nights you plan to stay. Also, if you let us know when you will be arriving in Hartford Bert will send someone to pick you up. Bert can be contacted at herbert.kwan@yale.edu.

The Banquet

Are you planning to attend the banquet on Saturday night? If so, would you prefer a beef, chicken, or vegetarian entree?

Biography

We would like to include biographies of each speaker in the printed program for conference attendees. To this end, I'd be grateful if you could send me a brief (one paragraph) c.v.

All speakers will soon be getting a call from a student to work out details associated with the respective panels, debate, or roundtable.

Please let me know if you have any other questions.

Sincerely,

Michael Yaeger
Student Symposium Coordinator

not that this is a big deal but it was bugging me as to how i could have gotten so confused. makes more sense now.

Jim will have the full support of a new Advisory Council on Faith-Based and Community Initiatives, in which he will participate along with five Cabinet secretaries and Steve Goldsmith, the Chairman for the Corporation of National and Community Service.

The Council will be chaired by USA Freedom Corps Director John Bridgeland.

I gather now that someone in your office has already looked at it -- not sure who -- I think Robert Delahunty passed it on. I'll send you a copy anyway -- don't have it electronically. Also, any thoughts on that attorney-client memo I gave you last week?

International Women's Day

NOW will organize the next step in our national Campaign to Protect and Advance Roe v. Wade. Nationwide, activists will stage sit-ins and mock filibusters in all 100 Senators' home offices. These actions will sound the alarm that there is a great danger to women if Roe is overturned, including the danger to women if back-alley abortions again become the only option. Senators will be urged to halt the stacking of the Supreme Court with right-wing ideologues.

Libby,

Myrna from Rep. Steve Buyer's (R) office called and was looking for some information that her boss could use when defending the administration's current debate with GAO over the Energy Task force. Basically, why we have acted within the law.

She would like a call from someone to quickly walk her through it.

Thanks. Her number is 225-5037. That is Buyer's main office line.

The White House Counsel's office requests that you and/or a designated high-level attorney in your office attend a meeting next Wednesday the 20th at 3:00 in Room 180 of the EEOB. At the meeting, we will review political activity rules and issues, as well as answer any questions you may have. The meeting should last less than an hour.

Please let me know by reply e-mail who from your office will attend. Clearance information should be provided to Lori Lorenzi at 456-7900.

Ken Mehlman of the White House Office of Political Affairs also will be in contact with the Chiefs of Staffs of your departments about this meeting.

ok, gang, I suggest that when necessary, we call the phone number above to get the exact time; it's starting to get a little ridiculous again with the staff meeting starting earlier and earlier because a few eager-beavers get to the waiting area many, many minutes before the official 8:15 start (8:45 start this week); if anyone is that eager to start at 8:00 or 8:10, let's do that explicitly so that all have fair notice. (Note that the clocks on our computers appear to be synchronized to the correct time.)

Our records indicate that your MailBox will soon exceed 1 GB of data and your account will freeze when the limit is reached. You will then need to contact our technical staff to enable your account to receive e-mails again. In order to avoid this from happening, we request that you delete as many unneeded e-mails as soon as possible. Lotus Notes offers an "All By Size" feature which allows you to delete your largest files first and we've provided instructions on that feature below.

We also request that you empty your trash bin and make this a weekly practice. If you have any further questions, please contact your Agency's Customer Service Representative or our Help Desk at 5-7370.

Using All-By-Size:

This feature can be found within your Notes folders listing toward the bottom of the list. By clicking on this folder you will get a listing of all your messages in order of size. You can also click on the Document Preview button under View (top line on the menu) to view the contents of each document before marking it for deletion. Once you have selected - using checkmarks - the files for deletion, just click on the delete button as usual. And please make sure you have also emptied your trashcan folder since they aren't really gone until that is empty.

Thank you.

Subject: Ethics Question

Secretary Paige was invited to attend a ceremony in which the Congressional Gold Medal will be awarded to President and Mrs. Reagan. Additionally, Secretary Paige was invited to serve on the Host Committee for the Ronald Reagan Presidential Library Fund. The Secretary's office would like to know if he can attend this event and serve on the Host Committee, as the reception and dinner will raise money benefiting the Ronald Reagan Presidential Library Foundation.

Please advise.

Thanks,

Carrie

Good morning! Just want to double check a point regarding personal notes. If one takes personal notes at a meeting or jots down action items that need to be taken care of -- in both cases for personal use only -- do they have to be retained?

Many thanks!

nope - they only have 10 extras, so I'm trying to make sure they get to the people who worked on the event - let me know if that's a problem.

General Mills as good enough to print a few extra boxes. They cost $3 a box, so shouldn't violate the gift ban. If you want one, please send your home address to Becky Beach at the above email address. For those of you who don't know her,

Subject: Proposed circulation

Here is the circulation I would propose for the questionnaire. This is large but still excludes a considerable number of people, and it should be easily defensible as a reasonable, if not generous, approach. Precisely how we would implement the circulation and collection (e.g., direct contact with each person vs. going through office heads) remains to be discussed.

End Original ARMS Header #####

After many months as a married lady, I've finally navigated the name-change process. I am now listed in the EOP Directory as Ginger G. Loper. Thanks, Ginger

End Original ARMS Header #####

After many months as a married lady, I've finally navigated the name-change process. I am now listed in the EOP Directory as Ginger G.
Loper. Thanks, Ginger

End Original ARMS Header #####

After many months as a married lady, I've finally navigated the name-change process. I am now listed in the EOP Directory as Ginger G.
Loper. Thanks, Ginger

After many months as a married lady, I've finally navigated the name-change process. I am now listed in the EOP Directory as Ginger G.
Loper. Thanks, Ginger

as most of you know, today is my last day at the white house. leaving fills me
with an emotion that is hard to put into words. it has a been a privilege working with each and every one of you. your unwavering commitment to the President and our Nation has inspired me on a daily basis. from the lincoln
lounge all the way to the white house, the pleasure has been all mine.

until next time,

mike

ps - - in two weeks, i am leaving dc to travel for the summer before enrolling at the kellogg school of management in chicago this fall. here is my

Here is the distribution list. It does not contain titles for OVP, CEA, & OMB. If you need me to track those down and fill in, I will. Also, it does not include the NSC folks that Jock may want to add.

Subject: Records Management

Background: I have been completing all the Homeland Security physical plant work at Nebraska Avenue. We have two new classified computer systems installed. We are using the same software modifications for the e-mail program that NSC uses. All sent and received e-mails are directed to a specific folder for capture. We are also installing tape backup for daily backups of all data to include all e-mails plus any data in folders on the server.

In all my contacts to date, I have been told that this meets the records management requirements. Tim Campen has asked me to verify with WH Counsel that we are in compliance with Records Management requirements and I was told by Courftney Elwood that you are the expert in this field. I wanted to make sure I haven't left anything out.

Question - does the use of software to ensure capture of all sent and received e-mails plus the tape backup meet the requirements for the classified computer system? Is there anything else we should be doing?

Thank you for your assistance.

Subject:

There will be a meeting Tuesday at 12:30 in Roosevelt with Judge and Karl and the full Texas contingent that is coming to DC. There then will be a meeting at approximately 1:15 in Oval Office with the President, Justice Owen, Karl, Judge Gonzales, Ziad Ojakli, the two Senators, and select members of the Texas contingent. There will be pool at bottom of Oval meeting.

The purposes of this e-mail are two: First, which members of this group does Karl think best and appropriate for the Oval Office meeting? Second, should Bill Jones (GC to Governor Perry) be invited to come to DC?

The list of people coming to Washington include:

Raul Gonzalez
Lynne Liberato
John Hill
Darrell Jordan
Colleen McHugh
Pat Mizell
Lee Parsley
Richard Pena
Dr. John Coppedge [not for Oval meeting?]
Dr. William H. Cunningham [not for Oval meeting?]
Blake Tarrt (maybe)
Frank Newton (maybe)
Bob Lanier (has been asked)
?? Flores - Laredo mayor (has been asked)

Are these charter planes that would be leased by the campaign from a charter company? Or donated by the charter company to the campaign? Or are they planes owned by a corporation that runs a business other than a charter
plane business?

Brett -
please advise as soon as you can?
Karl's entire trip rests on being able to take this plane - if he cannot,
we need to know asap -
thanks man (!)

Andrew: As we discussed on the phone, Chairman Kittle was able to get the option below solidified for a much reduced cost of only $1,200 approx. Please let me know if you need anymore information about this.
I can always be reached at 317-698-6536.

1. FBO Operator/Company: First Wing Management
Contact: Matt Hagen
Approx. Cost: $1,200
Type of plane: Commander on hold for us
Ownership of plane: First Wing --- they have planes for timeshare

Thanks,
Craig

Sorry for the delay in getting back to you. Regretfully, I will be leaving for LA tomorrow to give a speech to about 1500 on Tuesday so I'll miss seeing your boss, who will be less than a mile from my house next week to help my friend, Chip Pickering, stay employed.

I hate to waste anyones time on these utterly frivolous cases, particularly when we need you making sure Chip's dad gets to hold court in New Orleans beginning about the second week in November. Will give you a heads up when the next one is filed. Thanks again.

Subject: Hello!

Noel-

I hope you are doing well. I heard that you recently became a father....congratulations. I hope this means you have cut back on your hours at the WH!!!

Professional question for you. A friend of mine would like to get an item donated from the WH for a silent auction for a Victory 2002 fundraising dinner. Is it possible to get one donated if it for a political event? Please advise. Stuart Bowen reminded me that this was your realm.

Thanks so much for your help. Look forward to hearing back from you.

will you be attending with the judge? staying for cocktails only, or dinner? we're just trying to get seating, etc. in order.

also - please let me know if you'd like me to put talkers together for him for his brief remarks, or if y'all have that covered.

thanks. jo

Okay, since you have all been there before, I know you will understand this when I tell you our dinner with Karl and Ken has been changed from July 31 to Thursday, Aug. 8, 2002. We hope you can still make it.

Please let me know if you are able to attend by Aug. 5. Thank you.

Sorry about the confusion.

We want to thank all of you for the help you have provided PFA over the past year. As you know, trying to get a new organization off the ground can be difficult at times and with your time, assistance, and patience, we think we have made great strides.

We are having a reception/dinner on Wednesday, July 31 with Karl and Ken for PFA Members. We would like you to join us as our guests. We know your schedules are busy, if you would like to come by for cocktails and not stay for dinner, that is fine, or vice versa. The only thing is, since this is a small dinner and there will be assigned seats we will need to know by Monday, July 29 if you will be staying for dinner.

Here are the details:

Wednesday, July 31
6pm cocktails
6:30 dinner

The Oval Room
800 Connecticut Avenue

We hope to see you on the 31st!

I would suggest only that we perhaps list the ABA ratings on a separate stand-alone page rather than putting the ratings in the chart with all the information about the judges. That way, we would not give excessive credence to the ABA rating. Does that make sense?

Subject: Judges

Brett, we are redesigning our web pages on judges to make them more user-friendly and are considering adding the ABA rating. Since all of the controversial nominees received Q or WQ, and very few other nominees received any NQ votes, it seems like overall this helps our message. We will have a footnote disclaiming official reliance on or participation of the ABA, etc. But before we did this, I wanted to make sure that you guys didn't object.

Brett:

Craig Wray - deputy director of Advance - worked with WH press and communications to put together a wonderful video collage of the President's first year-and-a-half in office. It is awesome - we saw it for the first time this past weekend at the Advance Seminar - and we would like to be able to distribute it into the field this summer and fall to supporters/GOP faithful/etc. Likely we would ask the RNC to be the distribution point.

Are there any constraints on this activity, or we free to give the RNC a copy and ask them to start making copies and sending them out?

thanks sir (!)

No constraints, except that we should ensure that RNC makes an appropriate payment for purchase of the video from WH.

Subject: POTUS video for Presidential supporters/GOP faithful/etc.

Brett:

Craig Wray - deputy director of Advance - worked with WH press and communications to put together a wonderful video collage of the President's first year-and-a-half in office. It is awesome - we saw it for the first time this past weekend at the Advance Seminar - and we would like to be able to distribute it into the field this summer and fall to supporters/GOP faithful/etc. Likely we would ask the RNC to be the distribution point.

Are there any constraints on this activity, or we free to give the RNC a copy and ask them to start making copies and sending them out?

thanks sir (!)

Subject: ABA Annual Meeting

Brett:

Ted Olson is again attending the ABA meeting of the House of Delegates as the DOJ designee. On the agenda is resolution 112 (sponsored by Boyden Gray) urging prompt nomination and confirmation of judges (similar to resolutions passed by the ABA HOD in 1990 and 1998). We are contemplating whether Ted should plan to speak in support of the resolution. I would be interested in your thoughts on that topic. I am drafting a brief statement in case it should be decided he would speak and if you suggest that action will also send whatever I draft to you for review by any and all appropriate persons. Hope to hear from you soon.

I'm setting up a conference call with about 4-5 A-list people in WI to talk through a judges strategy. It would be great if you can join the call for 10 minutes and talk of the importance of their help/work. Can you do this on the afternoon of either Aug 12or13? If so, which do you prefer?

Thanks. JO

Delaware: I think no one reads the Baltimore Sun in Delaware. I would try the Philly papers. Also, the Delaware News Journal is not entirely insignificant in Delaware. (I lived for a year in Delaware when clerking.)

Wisconsin: agree with you that it probably makes sense to try Chicago papers.

Cabell,
She will be in New Mexico Wednesday doing a Junior Achievement event.
Heather Wilson will also be there at the event.
Wilson and Marin I believe are scheduled to shoot a photo session (they need roughly 45 minutes of Rosario's time) for a Wilson commercial. The Wilson people have blocked time before and after the event , depending on what works best for Marin. Could you contact their office and find out what her schedule is (in some detail) for her trip out there so I can get back to the Wilson campaign?

Brett,

I haven't received the faxed changes yet. That's fine if you haven't finished -- but if you did and had them faxed, there must have been some

It is legal for a WH official to donate a personal item for an auction at a political event. See 5 CFR 734.208 (example 8). But the WH could not provide any "official" item for this purpose. There also are appearance issues to consider. What did you have in mind?

Noel-

I hope you are doing well. I heard that you recently became a father....congratulations. I hope this means you have cut back on your hours at the WH!!!

Professional question for you. A friend of mine would like to get an item donated from the WH for a silent auction for a Victory 2002 fundraising dinner. Is it possible to get one donated if it for a political event? Please advise. Stuart Bowen reminded me that this was your realm.

Thanks so much for your help. Look forward to hearing back from you.

This week's National Journal has a special report on 69 specific areas of homeland security -- what has and has not worked since last year. Not sure if any of the info is relevant as you head into legislative negotiations, but could be -- so I flag it. Very interesting regardless.

THE PRESIDENT: I'm having a lot of fun. It's good to be back here with my friends in Texas -- including Senator Sibley, a fine lad.

SENATOR SIBLEY: A young man. (Laughter.)

THE PRESIDENT: We're just talking about the old days, what it's like to be in a legislative environment where Republicans and Democrats can get together to do what's right; what it's like to be in a legislative environment where people decide to do what's best for a -- something greater than themselves as opposed to what's best for a political party.

Q Think you'll be able to do that in Washington with pension reform?

THE PRESIDENT: I hope so, on all issues. My call is that Republicans and Democrats need to work together -- like on homeland security, on terrorism insurance, on pension reform. There's too much politics in Washington.

SENATOR SIBLEY: I don't remember anybody ever busting a judge.

THE PRESIDENT: Yes, busting judges, as he mentioned. There's too much politics.

SENATOR SIBLEY: It never happens.

THE PRESIDENT: Of course, he's talking about a fine Texas woman named Priscilla Owen, who's being busted for political reasons. She's been elected statewide here in Texas. People know her and trust her judgment and, yet, they're playing politics with her. Thank you for remembering that.

Anyway, I hope you all have a wonderful afternoon.

Since there are seven people to interview, these will have to be the times on friday, 8/16:
8:45-9:15
9:20-9:50
10-10:30
10:30-11
11-11:30
11:30-12
12-12:30

I'll let you know the exact schedule once we have it set up.

What times would you be available to help Kyle and Tim McLain interview judges for the US Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims on 8/16, 8/22, and 8/23? I need to set up the interviews and so if you could let me know your schedule, it would be most helpful.

Subject: President's mention of Judge Owen this morning

9:56 A.M. CDT

THE PRESIDENT: I'm having a lot of fun. It's good to be back here with my friends in Texas -- including Senator Sibley, a fine lad.

SENATOR SIBLEY: A young man. (Laughter.)

THE PRESIDENT: We're just talking about the old days, what it's like to be in a legislative environment where Republicans and Democrats can get together to do what's right; what it's like to be in a legislative environment where people decide to do what's best for a -- something greater than themselves as opposed to what's best for a political party.

Q Think you'll be able to do that in Washington with pension reform?

THE PRESIDENT: I hope so, on all issues. My call is that

REV_00425796

Republicans and Democrats need to work together -- like on homeland security, on terrorism insurance, on pension reform. There's too much politics in Washington.

SENATOR SIBLEY: I don't remember anybody ever busting a judge.

THE PRESIDENT: Yes, busting judges, as he mentioned. There's too much politics.

SENATOR SIBLEY: It never happens.

THE PRESIDENT: Of course, he's talking about a fine Texas woman named Priscilla Owen, who's being busted for political reasons. She's been elected statewide here in Texas. People know here and trust her judgment and, yet, they're playing politics with her. Thank you for remembering that.

Anyway, I hope you all have a wonderful afternoon.

Subject: Courtney and Patrick

FYI that Courtney is coming by w/ Patrick around 9:45 a.m. on Tuesday. If you want to stick around after staff meeting for the show and tell - great. If not I would imagine she'll try and walk through the OEOB offices as well after here visit here.

Thanks!

Some of the others could probably explain this better, but it's my understanding that we want to try to work with the House to improve what they've done in conference... In addition, Angela and Phil have been working on some changes that some of the Gov't Reform folks, particularly Tom Davis, would like. They can elaborate on that.

Yes, we do not allow use of corporate planes for political travel. Use for official travel is governed by regulations. Have them call me if they want.

hi brad.

i'd appreciate it if you'd forward this photo (attached) to brett since i don't have his email address over there. it's a shot of him with jeff berman from the judiciary committee at an ABA event. i titled it "detente"
-- which isn't wishful thinking on my part, mind you.

cheers, james

End Original ARMS Header #####

Brett - our common friend Steve Colloton has given me your name to contact to appear at our annual Federal Practice Seminar. I am a member of the ISBA

Federal Practice Committee. The committee puts on a Continuing Legal Education Seminar which is one of the most successful CLE programs put on by the ISBA and regularly attracts several hundred Iowa attorneys and includes presentations by all available judges and magistrates in the Northern and Southern Districts in Iowa, as well as the Iowa based judges of the Eighth Circuit.

We would like to have a presentation on the topic of Judicial Selection and Steve has indicated to me that you are the right person for the job. We are happy to work with you on the precise topic or what would be of interest to be included. We can be somewhat flexible on the time limit, although we find that anything over an hour presses the attention span of the audience. It would be good if some time could be left for questions. Our CLE rules require written materials to receive credit. This is not meant to be an onerous requirement and we can assist you if that is helpful.

Our program is scheduled for Friday December 13. We would like to have your presentation in the afternoon. I understand from Steve that he has invited you to the Iowa/Iowa State basketball game in Iowa City so we will certainly make sure that you are finished in plenty of time to make tip-off. (There will be several of us making the same trip). We sponsor a dinner the night before for all of the speakers (including all of the judicial officers). That dinner starts at 6:00 p.m. You are invited but not required to attend. You are also welcome to attend the program prior to your presentation.

We will pay all of the expenses associated with your trip. You can make your own travel arrangements and let us know the cost or we would be happy to put together an itinerary for your consideration. We understand that you will fly out of Cedar Rapids and if you decide to stay in a hotel, rather than with Steve's family in Iowa City, we will pay that expense. We want to make this as convenient for you as possible.

One final note. We have invited North Carolina Senator Edwards to speak at this year's program. We have not directed a topic for him and are not intending to set up a "debate" between the two of you on the judicial selection topic, although that might be entertaining. We have not heard back on the Senator's availability or willingness to attend. I will keep you advised on how things develop with the Senator.

I hope that you will be able to attend. Please feel free to call or e-mail with any questions. I look forward to meeting you in December.

Alicia --

I know you are working with Counsel's Office on this, and we appreciate all your efforts in getting them folks to respond quickly. Our latest proposal would be an invitation to Monday's event with the President at Trenton-Mercer Airport from Chairman Kyrillos in his capacity as State Senator Kyrillos, sent on official legislative stationary, with an RSVP number in his legislative district office.
Or, can you send us an approved invite on White House stationary, and we will simply send that exact letter out to the schools.

Thanks.

CGF

PS -- I have a 5pm walk-thru with Therese at the airport, so please reply to

afternoon. Thanks again.

Watching the judicial confirmation process these days is like going to a mud wrestling tournament: You may not recognize the participants, but you can bet the spectacle will not be elevating. A process that was occasionally ugly and partisan in the past has become consistently so.

E-mail this story
[Printer-friendly

The battle over the nomination of Miguel Estrada to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit shows just how little provocation it now takes to get a donnybrook going on Capitol Hill.

Estrada, who immigrated to the United States at age 17 from Honduras, is a highly accomplished Washington attorney who graduated with honors from Harvard Law School, clerked for Supreme Court Justice Anthony Kennedy, and spent five years in the office of the solicitor general, which represents the U.S. government in court. He argued 15 cases before the Supreme Court and won 10 of them.

He has earned praise from both conservatives and liberals. Seth Waxman, his boss in the Clinton administration, has come forward to call him "a model of professionalism and competence."

The American Bar Association gave him its highest rating.

A lawyer who could work on George W. Bush's presidential election case yet win plaudits as part of the Clinton administration's Justice Department is obviously no partisan fanatic. Nonetheless, Democrats on the Senate Judiciary Committee have treated him with outright suspicion, brandishing a comment by Paul Bender, his former supervisor in the solicitor general's office, who said Estrada "is too much of an ideologue to be an appeals court judge." But in formal performance reviews, Bender described Estrada as "outstanding."

Senate critics have been reduced to citing quotes from anonymous sources who think Estrada is a right-wing crusader. If someone wants to step forward and answer for those comments, they might be worth considering. Otherwise, they deserve no more attention than restroom graffiti. For public comments, the committee can read the letter signed by 14 of Estrada's former colleagues at the solicitor general's office, calling him "a person of exceptional intellect, integrity and professionalism who would make a superb circuit judge."

Lacking any evidence to support the charge that Estrada is an ideologue, the committee has demanded that the Justice Department disgorge confidential memoranda Estrada wrote for his superiors at the solicitor general's office. The administration has refused, on the sensible ground that government attorneys can't give candid advice if they have to worry that their words will someday be scrutinized in public.

Seven former solicitors general, Democratic and Republican, have opposed the demand. "Any attempt to intrude into the office's highly privileged deliberations would come at the cost of the solicitor general's ability to defend vigorously the United States' litigation interests," they declared.

The White House has put forth a strong case that Estrada is well-suited to serve as a federal judge, while his critics have offered little but unfounded sniping. The committee ought to waste no time in confirming him.

KaBOOM! (a national nonprofit that builds playgrounds in playground poor neighborhoods) and the USA Freedom Corps office invite you to a day of fun and hard work on Saturday, October 26, Make A Difference Day. If you are interested in joining other members of the President's staff, their families and friends to build a brand new playground in the Oxon Run Park community of southeast Washington, DC, please e-mail Rhonda Taylor at the USA Freedom Corps office to sign-up or for more information.

We'll build rain or shine, from 8:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m., and at day's end we'll have a new playgroud for the community.

REV_00426295

There will be activities and projects for children, so bring your family or a friend. Pre-registration is required for participation.

There is going to give a party for Anne Womack on Friday following Ari's briefing, Brett. Friday is her last day before she goes to the SEC. I know she regularly did press work for your shop and thought you all would like to know about it in case some of your folks would like to come. It is being organized by reporters - and one scholar - and will be held in the basement of the Press Room.

Warm Wishes,

Martha

Brett,
Hi! I hope you're doing well. I'm emailing you to see whether once again you may be able to help find a panelist for an upcoming Washington Council of Lawyers' brownbag lunch.
The Council is planning a brownbag for Wed., December 11th on the judicial nominations process. We do NOT want to explore the merits of any particular nominee. Rather, we want to have a discussion about the proper role of the Senate in giving advice and consent and on what considerations are appropriate to take into account. Since your office plays a key role in this process, we would very much like to have someone from your office participate in our panel. If Judge Gonzales is available, that would be wonderful. If not, would you or one of your colleagues (I believe Chris Bartolomucci may work on these issues) be available and interested? If anyone would like more information on the Council, he or she may wish to visit our website at www.washingtoncounciloflawyers.org. Please let me know.
You can reach me at this email address or at 202-942-5063. Thanks --

I work on the noms (as do we all) and I have done a bunch of these and would be happy to do this. The Judge tries to keep his speaking engagements down during the day because so much unexpected happens. Let me know.

Brett,
Hi! I hope you're doing well. I'm emailing you to see whether once again you may be able to help find a panelist for an upcoming Washington Council of Lawyers' brownbag lunch. The Council is planning a brownbag for Wed., December 11th on the judicial nominations process. We do NOT want to explore the merits of any particular nominee. Rather, we want to have a discussion about the proper role of the Senate in giving advice and consent and on what considerations are appropriate to take into account. Since your office plays a key role in this process, we would very much like to have someone from your office participate in our panel. If Judge Gonzales is available, that would be wonderful. If not, would you or one of your colleagues (I believe Chris Bartolomucci may work on these issues) be available and interested? If anyone would like more information on the Council, he or she may wish to visit our website at www.washingtoncounciloflawyers.org. Please let me know. You can reach me at this email address or at 202-942-5063. Thanks

Brett

Thanks for agreeing to speak at the LSF on October 30. We have scheduled you for a panel at 4:30 PM along with Keith Ausbrook and (we hope) Alex Azar. The subject is basically a "mid year" review of the Bush Administration -- it's success and failures -- and how the Bush administration and the conservative movement can work together in the send half of the 1st term.

The event is at Lansdowne Resort -- directions are at www.lansdowneresort.com. Your panel will run to approx. 5:45. After a short break the group will reconvene at approx. 6:15 for cocktails, followed by dinner and a dinner speaker [we believe it will be Judge Loren Smith -- though he needs to clear a conflict] at which we hope you will be our guest.

On another note -- nice piece in the Post today.

See you then,
Paul
